When the viewers shall have completed their labors they shall file their report in writing in the said court. If no exceptions shall be filed thereto within thirty days from the filing of the report or if no appeal therefrom be filed within said time demanding a trial by jury the said report shall be confirmed absolutely. After final judgment on any appeal from the award of viewers an appeal may be had to either the Supreme Court or Superior Court as the case may require. Except as is otherwise hereinafter provided in all pending proceedings and proceedings hereafter instituted the compensation of the viewers together with all the costs of the proceedings shall be paid from any of the appropriations made by the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania to the Department of Forests and Waters and available for the purchase of said lands and for otherwise carrying out the provisions of this act and in no such case shall the compensation of any of such viewers or the costs of any of such proceedings be assessed against or ordered to be paid by the county in which the proceedings are instituted but if upon any appeal the award of the viewers is not increased or modified in favor of the appellant the entire cost of the proceedings subsequent to such award shall be paid by the appellant. In so far as practicable the Department may include in one petition proceedings for the condemnation of all land in one county proposed to be acquired.

In any proceedings under this section the court may appoint such guardian or committees or trustees as the case may require and may in all cases prescribe the form and manner of service of any notice required in any proceedings under this act.

Whenever property in Pennsylvania is injured or destroyed by reason of the erection and maintenance of the dam and reservoir provided for in this act and the Department cannot agree with the owner of such property as to the amount of such damages the said damages shall be ascertained on the petition of the Department or any person interested in the manner provided by section three of this ascertaining damages for property acquired under authority of this act.

Section 6 The Department may in its discretion sell at public or private sale and convey title thereto in the name of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania any land or buildings or both acquired by it in the name of this Commonwealth by the authority of this act and which are outside the basin of the Pymatuning Reservoir. All deeds for such property shall be approved by the Attorney General and shall be executed in the name of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania by the Secretary of Forests and Waters. The Department may also on such terms and subject to such conditions as it deems most advantageous to the Commonwealth (a) cut timber on any of the lands so acquired and sell the same (b) sell any improvements on any of such lands (c) rent or lease any part or parts of said lands for farming or other purposes and (d) rent or lease any houses or buildings on said land for dwelling or other purposes.

All moneys derived from any of the sources authorized by this act are hereby permanently appropriated to the Department for use in the purchase of additional lands under the provisions of this act and for such other purposes in connection with the Pymatuning Reservoir project as the Department deems expedient.

Section 7 The sum of one hundred thousand dollars ($100,000) or so much thereof as may be necessary is hereby specifically appropriated to the Department of Forests and Waters for the purpose of continuing the erection and construction of said dam for carrying out the provisions of this act.

Section 8 The following acts and parts of acts are hereby repealed.

Session 1925

126th of the General Assembly

Vol. 8.

HARRISBURG, PA., TUESDAY, MARCH 31, 1925.

No. 31.

SENATE

TUESDAY, March 31st, 1925.

The Senate met at 11:00 o'clock A. M.

The PRESIDENT (Lieutenant-Governor David J. Davis) in the Chair.

PRAYER.

The Chaplain, Rev. Edward S. Ninde, offered the following prayer:

Our Heavenly Father: We thank Thee for this new day of life. Help us to spend it well. Forbid that we should become so absorbed in the ordinary routine of business as to lose the human touch. May we follow the example of the Nazarene, and like Him go about doing good. May we bring cheer into sad hearts, and lift burdens from tired shoulders; may we be peacemakers where there is ill-will, and help us to overcome sorrow with joy. May we do our best to make this a brighter and a better world. Bless the Senators in their work, and direct them all through the day. For Jesus' sake. Amen.

JOURNAL APPROVED.

The PRESIDENT—A quorum of the Senate being present, the Clerk will read the Journal of the preceding session.

The Clerk proceeded to read the Journal of the preceding session, when, on motion of Mr. BUCKMAN, the further reading was dispensed with, and the Journal was approved.

BILLS ON FINAL PASSAGE.

Agreeably to order,

The Senate resumed the consideration of Senate Bill No. 413, as follows:

An Act to provide for the equalization of educational opportunity and the encouragement of the study of citizenship by recognition of extension education for boys and girls who are employed and for adults as a function of the public schools of this Commonwealth and to facilitate the proper organization and administration of such extension education

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That the following words and phrases as used in this act shall unless a different meaning is plainly required by the context have the following meaning

"Extension education" shall designate any instruction provided and administered by the board of directors of any school district which is organized primarily for boys and girls who are employed and for adults whose earlier educational opportunity has been restricted but shall not include the school work of continuation and other vocational schools

"Curricular course of study" shall designate any subject of study included in the programs of study of the regular elementary and secondary public day schools of the district

"Extra curricular course of study" shall designate any elementary or secondary course of study not so included

Section 2 That the board of school directors of any school district may and upon written application signed by twenty or more residents of such district above the age of sixteen years who are not in attendance at any public or private day school shall provide free extension education for the instruction of said applicants in any curricular course of study so requested or in English and citizenship for immigrants and native illiterates or in citizenship for adults and in such other extra-curricular courses of study as said board may deem advisable Provided That any such board of school directors may refuse to provide such extension education whenever less than twenty of its said applicants are unfitted to pursue with reasonable profit the course of study requested

Section 3. Extension education shall be provided in school buildings at any time not in conflict with regular day-school activities as requested by such applicants and elsewhere at any hour during any day except Sunday or legal holidays which the board may deem advisable Provided That the board shall not be required to admit to said extension schools a person who is in actual full-time attendance at any public or private school during the day Provided further That attendance at such classes by part-time pupils shall not be accepted in lieu of the compulsory part-time attendance required of such pupils Provided further That said board of directors may close any class of said extension schools when the average attendance for any month falls below ten

Section 4 Any board of school directors may require a deposit fee of a sum not to exceed five dollars ($5.00) from each person enrolling in such extension schools or classes and may require further that such deposit fees accompany said written applications for such extension instruction Such deposit fee shall be returned at the close of each term of instruction to all persons so enrolled who have attended seventy-five (75) per cent or more of the class sessions of said term Provided That nothing herein shall be construed as prohibiting the return of said deposit fee because of death sickness or for any other cause which the board may deem justifiable

Section 5 All school credits derived from any curricular course of study in the extension classes of any district shall be accepted by the school authorities of that district toward fulfillment of the requirements for graduation from any curriculum of any day school of corresponding grade in that district Upon the satisfactory completion in extension classes of the curricular courses of study required for graduation from any curriculum of any school of any school district by any person such person shall be awarded the appropriate school certificate or diploma at the close of the then current school term

Section 6 Schools and classes for extension education shall be a part of the public schools of the Commonwealth and of the district in which they are organized and shall be under the supervisions of the superintendent of the county or of the district as are other public schools of that district The State Council of Education shall adopt standards for the qualifications and certification of extension teachers and all other matters pertaining to extension education not inconsistent with this act or other acts pertaining to the public schools of the Commonwealth

Section 7 This act shall become effective immediately and other acts or portions of other acts inconsistent herewith are hereby declared null and void

And the amendments made thereto having been printed as required by the Constitution,

Ordered, That the Clerk present said bill to the House of Representatives for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The Senate resumed the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 610, (House Bill No. 731), as follows:

An Act to amend sections seven hundred and sixteen and four hundred and two of the act approved the twenty-fourth day of May one thousand nine hundred and twenty-three (Pamphlet Laws three hundred and fifty-nine) entitled "An act concerning game and other wild birds and wild animals and amending revising consolidating and changing the law relating thereto"

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That section seven hundred and sixteen of the act approved the twenty-fourth day of May one thousand nine hundred and twenty-three (Pamphlet Laws three hundred and fifty-nine) entitled "An act concerning game and other wild birds and wild animals and amending revising consolidating and changing the law relating thereto" be amended to read as follows:

Section 716 Dogs Pursuing Elk Or Deer Liability Of Owners Any dog pursuing or following upon the track of an elk or deer is hereby declared to be a public nuisance. Such dog may be killed by any person when pursuing or following upon the track of an elk or a deer for a distance believed by such person to be one-half mile or more or by any officer whose duty it is to protect the game of the State upon affidavit being made by any person acquainted with the facts that said dog is in the habit of or has been seen or heard running upon the track of or pursuing any elk or deer for a distance of one-half mile or more within a period of three months before the date of such affidavit. The owner or person harboring or in control of a dog either killed in conformity with the law or proven to have pursued an elk or deer for the distance of one-half mile or more shall be liable to a penalty of fifty dollars for each elk and twenty-five dollars for each deer pursued and one hundred dollars for each elk and fifty dollars for each deer killed or caused to be killed by such dog running at large without the aid or direction of its master. Where the owner or person harboring or in control of a dog shall neglect or refuse to take such action as may be necessary to prevent such dog from running elk or deer after notice in writing from an officer whose duty it is to protect the game to the effect that the dog in question is in the habit of pursuing elk or deer he shall be liable to double the amount as fixed before the first offense.

The provisions of this section shall not be construed to apply to any dog accompanied by the owner or in control of and accompanied by a competent handler being used under permit from the Board which may be issued at the discretion of the Secretary without charge for the purpose of hunting foxes or wild cats with intent to kill such animals as a protection to game between December sixteenth and March fifteenth next following providing each dog so used wears a collar having attached thereto a current year license tag and a metallic plate with the name and address of the owner inscribed thereon in plain English. If a dog so used is either known to be regularly in the habit of chasing elk or deer or is caught in the act of killing either an elk or a deer or the owner or handler has been notified in writing by the Secretary of the Board that such dog has been known to chase elk or deer or that such permit has been cancelled said dog may be killed in the same manner as if no permit had been issued.

Section 2 That section four hundred and two of said act is hereby amended to read as follows:

Section 402 Board Empowered to Grant Licenses Under the conditions and limitations hereinafter prescribed the board may grant licenses at their discretion which licenses shall expire on May thirty-first of each year. Such licenses shall not be transferable. Such licenses may be issued (a) to any person within this Commonwealth of known scientific attainment in ornithology or mammalogy (b) to any agent of any public museum in this Commonwealth (c) to a teacher of ornithology in any school within this Commonwealth (d) to any person within the Commonwealth desiring to breed or raise game in captivity and to sell the same (e) to any person desiring to possess breed or sell ferrets (f) to any person qualified to practice taxidermy and (g) to fur dealers or persons purchasing or receiving raw furs for commercial purposes.

No person so long as he is legally acting under the authority of a license issued by the board shall be liable to any of the penalties provided for in this act

Section 1152 In any case where under the authority of section eleven hundred and forty-two of this act a system of sewage and drainage covering any township of the second class in whole or in part shall have been approved and authorized by resolution the supervisors may enter into a contract with any responsible individual or individuals or corporation for the construction of such system of sewage or drainage at the expense of such individual or individuals or corporation He they or it shall be entitled under such construction maintenance and operation of such system of sewage or drainage with the right to collect such charges in connection therewith as the supervisors prescribe in as full manner as same might have been collected by the township or the supervisors prescribe in as full manner as same might have been collected by the township or the supervisors In such contract the supervisors shall reserve to the township the right at any time or after a prescribed time to itself take possession of such system of sewage and drainage and its appurtenances at a price and upon terms to be fixed in the contract

Nothing in this section shall be construed to repeal or modify any of the provisions of the Public Service Company law

(c) Sewers and Drains in Streets or Alleys or Over Private Property Assessment of Cost of Construction According to Benefits

Section 1153 Subject to the provisions of Section 1158 hereof Townships of the second class may construct sewers and drains in any street or alley or through or on or over private property The costs damages and expenses of the construction of any sewers or drains shall be assessed upon the properties accommodated or benefited in either of the following methods

(a) By an assessment pursuant to a resolution of the township board of supervisors of each lot or piece of land in proportion to its frontage abutting on the sewer allowing such reduction in the case of properties abutting on more than one sewer as the resolution may specify No assessment by frontage shall be made on properties of such a character as not to be lawfully subject to such manner of assessment and each abutting property shall be assessed with not less than its proportion aforesaid of the entire cost and expense of such construction

(b) By an assessment upon the several properties abutting on the sewer in proportion to benefits the amount of the charge on which property shall be ascertained and the rights of taxpayers are conferred as in townships of the first class under the provisions of sections five hundred and fifty-three to five hundred and sixty-five both inclusive of the act to which this is an amendment

(d) Sewers Under State and County Highways

Section 1154 Townships of the second class may construct sewers and drains in and under any county or State Highway within the township boundaries In case of the construction of sewers upon county highways the consent of the county commissioners of the county shall first be obtained and in case of the construction of sewers upon any State highway the consent of the Secretary of Highways shall first be obtained

Section 1155 Whenever sewers have been or shall be laid or constructed by any second class township in and under such highways such township may ascertain levy and collect the costs and expenses of the construction thereof from the abutting property holders in the same manner as in first class townships under the provisions of section five hundred and fifty-three to five hundred and sixty-four of this act

(e) Connecting With Sewer of Adjoining Municipality

Section 1156 Any township of the second class may connect with an existing sewer owned by and adjacent municipality for sewage purposes in the following manner

An application shall be made by the board of supervisors to the court of quarter sessions setting forth that fact. If the court shall be of the opinion that such connection can be made without impairing the usefulness of the existing sewer it shall appoint three viewers who shall view the premises and investigate the facts of the case and shall assess the proportionate part of the expense of building the original sewer upon such township of the second class and shall fix the proportion of the expense for repairs which the municipality and the township of the second class shall thereafter bear and determine all other questions liable to arise in connection therewith.

Section 1157 The viewers shall report to the court the result of their investigation which report shall be confirmed within thirty days unless exceptions thereto are filed. After confirmation of such report or the disposal of any exceptions any party interested may appeal from the decision of the court of quarter sessions to the Superior Court.

Section 1158 No sewer system of sewers or drain shall be constructed under the provisions hereof unless a resolution of the Board of Supervisors authorizing the same shall be published in a newspaper of general circulation published in the county in which the township is situated once a week for three successive weeks. If within twenty-days after the last publication or at any time during the period of publication taxpayers of the township whose property valuation is assessed for taxable purposes within the township shall amount to fifty per centum of the total property valuation as assessed for taxable purposes within the township shall sign and file in the office of the Prothonotary of the Court of Common Pleas of the County in which the township is located a written protest against the construction of such sewer system or drain when the construction authorized by such resolution shall not be undertaken or proceeded with.

(f) Acquisition of Sewer Systems

Section 1159 Any township of the second class in which any person firm or corporation is maintaining sewers and culverts with the necessary inlet and appliances for surface and under-surface and sewage drainage may become the owner of such sewers culverts inlet and appliances by paying therefor the actual value of the same at the time of the taking by the township.

In case the supervisors of the township cannot agree with the owners of such sewers as to the price to be paid therefor the supervisors may enter upon and take possession of such sewers culverts inlets and appliances. For all damage done or suffered or which accrues to the owner or owners of such sewer by reason of the taking of the same the funds of the township raised by taxation shall be pledged and deemed as security such damages to be determined by viewers in the same manner as damages for the construction of sewers are determined in townships of the first class under the provisions of sections one hundred and seventy-four to one hundred and seventy-seven inclusive of the act to which this is an amendment. If any sewer or sewer system is acquired by purchase under the provisions of this section the cost of such acquisition may be distributed or assessed in the same manner as if such sewer or sewer system had been constructed by such township under the provisions of this act.

Ordered, To be transcribed for a third reading.

Agreeably to order,

The rule requiring bills to be considered in Committee of the Whole being in this case dispensed with,

The Senate proceeded to the second reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 1023, entitled:

An Act relating to the licensing of persons firms or corporations advertising soliciting or contracting to treat shade park or ornamental trees or shrubs by pruning training or filling of cavities or to protect such trees from damage from insects or diseases by spraying or by any other method providing for the appointment of a licensing board and defining its powers and duties providing penalties and making an appropriation

The first section of the bill was read as follows and agreed to:

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That no person firm or corporation shall after January first one thousand nine hundred and twenty-six advertise solicit or contract to treat shade park or ornamental trees or shrubs by pruning trimming or filling of cavities or to protect such trees from damage from insects or diseases by spraying or by any other method without having first secured a license as provided in section two of this act It shall be unlawful for any person licensed under the provisions of this act to advertise solicit or contract to engage in any of the tree treatment work hereinbefore enumerated unless licensed to engage in that particular kind of work

The Second section of the bill was read as follows:

Section 2 The Secretary of Agriculture shall appoint a board of three persons qualified to act in this capacity to be known as the "Tree Protection Licensing Board" of which board the chairman and executive officer shall be a member of the Department of Agriculture and two members shall be chosen from nominations from organized bodies of nurserymen tree surgeons or landscape men organized within the State. The board shall meet from time to time at the call of the chairman and two members of the board shall constitute a quorum for the transactions of any business. Members of the board shall not receive any compensation but shall be paid all traveling hotel and other expenses actually incurred in the performance of their duties.

It shall be the duty of the board upon application for a license from any person firm or corporation to examine the qualifications of the applicant to engage in any of the tree protection work hereinbefore enumerated and if satisfied that the applicant is qualified the board may issue a license stating the type or kind of tree work in which the applicant has passed an examination which license shall be valid for the remainder of the calendar year. Said board shall prepare all necessary forms and prescribe all rules and regulations governing examinations and issue of licenses. All licenses issued under the provisions of this act shall expire on the thirty-first day of December of each year. The license may be renewed by the board upon application of the licensee for the succeeding years without further examination within the discretion of the board. Any license issued under the provisions of this act may be revoked by the board upon evidence that improper methods have been used or for some other sufficient cause. Any person firm or corporation aggrieved by the action of the board in refusing to renew or revoking a license may appeal therefrom to the Secretary of Agriculture who after a full investigation may sustain or reverse the action of the board. In case he reverses the action of the board a license shall forthwith be issued to the party entitled thereto. Any person firm or corporation receiving a license under the provisions of this act shall be responsible for the acts of his or its employees in the performance of such work within the meaning of this act.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the section?

Ordered, To be transcribed for a third reading.

Agreeably to order,

The rule requiring bills to be considered in Committee of the Whole being in this case dispensed with,

The Senate proceeded to the second reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 1033, as follows:

A Joint Resolution proposing an amendment to Article nine of the Constitution of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania by adding thereto a section

Section 1 Be it resolved by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met That the following amendment to the Constitution of Pennsylvania be and the same is hereby proposed in accordance with the eighteenth article thereof

That article nine be amended by adding thereto the following section

Section 19 In addition to the purposes stated in article nine section four of this Constitution the State may be authorized to issue bonds to the amount of fifty millions of dollars ($50,000,000) for the acquisition of lands and buildings and the construction and improvement of state owned buildings and the equipment thereof for the care and maintenance of penal delinquents mental defectives epileptics and persons mentally diseased

And said bill having been read at length the second time and agreed to,

Ordered, To be transcribed for a third reading.

BILL RECOMMITTED.

Mr. LESLIE. Mr. President, I move that Senate Bill No. 1033, the bill just read, be recommitted to the Committee on Finance for the purpose of a hearing.

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the Motion?

Mr. WOODWARD. Mr. President, there is a gentleman's agreement that this bill shall go to the third reading calendar before it is killed or attacked.

Mr. LESLIE. Mr. President, when it comes out of committee it will be on third reading.

Mr. WOODWARD. Mr. President, the bill does not belong in the Committee on Finance. If it is recommitted it must go to the committee where it was formerly considered.

Mr. LESLIE. Mr. President, will the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Woodward, permit the bill to go to my committee.

Mr. WOODWARD. Mr. President, I hope it will not go into his committee at all. It should go into the Committee on Judiciary General.

Mr. President, I am not the champion of this bill. The sponsor of this bill is ill at home, and it seems to me the most courteous thing is not to interfere with his bill until he returns.

Mr. LESLIE. Mr. President, it is not interfering with it at all.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

A division being called for twenty-two Senators voted in the affirmative and eleven in the negative, whereupon the question was decided in the affirmative.

An Act for the protection of the public safety by providing as a prerequisite to the registration of motor vehicles for the establishment (including the continuance during the period of registration) of financial responsibility by owners thereof for injury including death resulting therefrom to persons or damage to property caused by or as the result of the negligent use maintenance or operation of such vehicles conferring powers and imposing duties upon the Secretary of Highways and his agents in connection therewith and for the enforcement thereof imposing certain duties upon owners of motor vehicles and upon insurance companies associations exchanges and corporations issuing policies and contracts to motor vehicle owners and providing penalties

DEFINITIONS

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That the term "motor vehicle" as used in this act shall be construed to mean all vehicles propelled by internal combustion engines electricity or steam except traction engines tractors road rollers and vehicles traveling only upon rails or tracks

The word "owner" or the term "owner of a motor vehicle" shall be construed to mean the person co-partnership association or corporation in whose name the motor vehicle is registered under the laws of the Commonwealth except motor vehicles registered in the name of the Commonwealth or any county city borough town township school district or poor district

Section 2 Financial Responsibility of Motor Vehicle Owner A Pre-requisite to Registration No motor vehicle shall be registered for the calendar year of one thousand nine hundred and twenty-six or for any calendar year thereafter to operate upon the highways of the Commonwealth unless and until the Secretary of Highways or his agent is satisfied of the financial ability of the owner to respond in damages in the sum of at least two thousand five hundred dollars ($2,500) for any one person injured or killed and in the sum of five thousand dollars ($5,000) for any number of persons more than one injured or killed in any one accident and in the sum of at least one thousand dollars ($1,000) for property damaged in any one accident as the result or because of the negligent use maintenance or operation of such motor vehicle

In any case where an owner shall apply for the registration of more than one motor vehicle the Secretary of Highways or his agent shall be satisfied of the financial ability of the owner to pay four thousand dollars ($4,000) damages for each motor vehicle registered in addition to the amounts hereinbefore specified with a maximum liability of twenty thousand dollars ($20,000) for any number of motor vehicles registered

Section 3 Method To Establish Financial Responsibility The financial responsibility of an owner to respond in damages as provided in section two of this act shall be evidenced in one of the ways prescribed in clauses (a) (b) and (c) of this section

(a) By the certificate (to be filed with the application for registration) of an insurance company association or exchange authorized to do business in the Commonwealth stating that the owner has a policy of automobile liability and property damage insurance in said company association or exchange insuring the owner for the term covered by the registration to be issued thereon in at least the amount specified in section two of this act against loss from liability imposed by law upon such owner or the operator of motor vehicle (when operating with the consent or under the direction of the owner) by reason of injury to or death of any person (other than a person employed by the owner or operator in the use maintenance or operation of such vehicle) or injury to or destruction of property (not including property of such owner or the operator nor property carried in or upon such motor vehicle or in charge of the owner or operator of such motor vehicle) caused by the negligent use maintenance or operation of said motor vehicle and resulting from accidents occurring during the term of said policy The limitation of liability in any such policy shall be exclusive of any court costs and expenses of investigating and defining suits in case the company association or exchange indemnifies the owner for such costs and expenses Such policy shall also contain a provision for a continuing liability thereunder notwithstanding any recovery thereon by the owner

(b) By the certificate (to be filed with the application for registration) of a responsible and solvent domestic corporation of association incorporated or formed by owners of motor vehicles stating that the owner is a member of such corporation or association and that he has a policy in or contract with such corporation or association insuring or indemnifying the owner for the term covered by the registration to be issued thereon in at least the amounts specified in section two of this act against loss from liability imposed by law on such owner or the operator of the motor vehicle (when operating with the consent or under the direction of the owner) by reason of injury to or death of any person (other than a person employed by the owner or operator in the use maintenance or operation of such motor vehicle) or injury to or destruction of property (not including property of such owner or the operator nor property carried in or upon such motor vehicle or in charge of the owner or operator of such motor vehicle) caused by the negligent use maintenance or operation of said motor vehicle and resulting from accidents occurring during the terms of said policy or contract. The limitation of liability in any such policy or contract shall be exclusive of any court costs and expenses of investigating and defending suits in case the corporation or association indemnifies the owner for such costs and expenses. Such policy or contract shall also contain a provision for a continuing liability thereunder notwithstanding any recovery thereon by the owner.

Any such corporation or association shall be subject to examination by the Insurance Commissioner or his agents to ascertain its financial responsibility and solvency and his decision on said questions shall be final and conclusive but the maintenance of a clear surplus of twenty thousand dollars ($20,000) above liabilities incurred shall be considered sufficient to prove the solvency of such corporation or association.

(c) By an order issued by the Secretary of Highways or his duly authorized agent exempting the owner from filing the certificates required by clauses (a) and (b) of this section. Any owner of a motor vehicle desiring to be so exempted shall make application under oath to the Secretary of Highways showing his financial ability to pay damages during the term covered by the registration issued pursuant to any such exemption in at least the amount specified in section two of this act recovered by law against the owner or operator of the motor vehicle (when operating with the consent or under the direction of the owner) by reason of injury to or death of any person or injury to or destruction of property caused by the negligent use maintenance or operation of said motor vehicle during the term of the registration. If the Secretary of Highways is satisfied of the owner's financial ability he shall by written order make such exemption. The Secretary of Highways or his agent may from time to time require further statements under oath of the financial ability of such owner and if at any time such owner appears no longer able to pay damages in the amounts required by this act he shall revoke his order granting such exemption. When any such order is revoked the owner shall file a certificate as required in clause (a) or (b) of this section showing that he has secured a policy of insurance or a contract and pending such action the registration of the motor vehicle of such owner shall be suspended. Any person who shall make any wilfully false statement in any such application for exemption under the provisions of this clause shall be guilty of perjury.

Any such written order of exemption shall remain in force from year to year unless revoked by the Secretary of Highways.

Section 4 Duties of Exempted Owners Penalty. It shall be the duty of any owner to notify the Secretary of Highways of any change in his financial standing involving inability to pay damages as provided in clause (c) section three of this act and immediately to establish his financial ability in one of the ways provided by clauses (a) and (b) of said section and upon failure so to establish his financial ability the registration of his motor vehicle shall be revoked by the Secretary of Highways. Any owner who shall fail or neglect to notify the Secretary of Highways of any change in his financial standing as hereinbefore provided shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction thereof shall be sentenced to pay a fine not exceeding one thousand dollars ($1,000) or to undergo imprisonment for a term not exceeding six months or both.

If an owner exempted by the Secretary of Highways under the provisions of clause (c) section three of this act shall fail or refuse to pay damages caused by the negligent use maintenance or operation of his motor vehicle by the owner or operator thereof the Secretary of Highways shall revoke the registration of the owner's motor vehicle for a period of two years.

Section 5 Records To Be Public. The Secretary of Highways shall cause to be kept a complete record of all certificates filed and exemptions granted under the provisions of this act and such records shall be open to inspection by any proper person during business hours.

Section 6 Certificates of Compliance. The Secretary of Highways or his agent shall issue to each owner with the certificate of registration a certificate of compliance which shall state that the owner has complied with the provisions of this act in the establishment of financial responsibility and shall further specify the method of compliance adopted by the owner. The certificate of compliance shall at all times be displayed in such motor vehicle and shall be subject to examination at any time by any constable police officer or other person authorized by law to halt motor vehicles. Any person who shall fail to display said certificate or fail to exhibit the same upon demand shall upon conviction thereof in a summary proceeding before any magistrate alderman or justice of the peace be subject to a fine of ten dollars ($10.00) and in default of the payment of such fine and costs of prosecution shall be committed to the county jail for a period of ten days.

For the issuance of each certificate of compliance the Secretary of Highways is directed to charge and collect a fee of one dollar for the use of the Commonwealth.

Section 7 Notices in Cases of Accidents. Within twenty-four hours after the happening of any accident causing injury to or death of any person or injury to or destruction of property the owners or operators involved therein shall notify the Secretary of Highways or his agent and any insurance company association or exchange or corporation or association in which or with which he has a policy or contract of the facts and details of such accident. After an investigation of such accident by the Secretary of Highways or his agent the Secretary of Highways may revoke the registration of said motor vehicle or the owner's and operator's license or both and if the registration is not revoked he may require the owner to take out additional insurance or an additional contract or otherwise prove his financial responsibility in the manner provided by section three of this act and in case the owner shall fail to comply with the requirements of the Secretary of Highways his registration shall be revoked.

Any owner or operator neglecting to carry out the provision of this section shall upon conviction thereof in a summary proceeding be sentenced to pay a fine of one hundred dollars ($100) and in default of the payment of such fine and costs shall be sentenced to undergo imprisonment in the county jail for thirty days.

Section 8 Revocation of Policies and Contracts. Any insurance company association or exchange or any corporation or association revoking or intending to revoke any policy of insurance policy or contract provided for in clauses (a) and (b) of section three of this act shall at least twenty days before such revocation notify the Secretary of Highways and the owner of the motor vehicle and in case the owner shall fail to further satisfy the Secretary of Highways or his agent of his financial responsibility in one of the ways provided for by section three of this act it shall be the duty of the Secretary of Highways upon the date of such revocation to suspend the registration of the motor vehicle of such owner.

Any person operating any motor vehicle after the registration thereof has been suspended as provided by this section shall be subject to the penalties provided by law for the operation of a motor vehicle without registration.

Section 9 Procedure Where Owner is Refused Policy of Insurance. Upon application of any owner who shall have been refused a policy of automobile liability and property damage insurance provided for in section three (a) of this act the Secretary of Highways or his agent shall notify the refusing insurance company association or exchange to appear before him at a public hearing to be held at his office not less than fifteen days nor more than thirty days from the date of the notice. Such notice may be sent by registered mail addressed to the home office of the company association or exchange or in the case of a foreign association or exchange by notice filed with the Insurance Commissioner. At any hearing the Secretary of Highways or his agent shall examine into the justice of such refusal and if he determines that such refusal is just he shall so certify and if he determines that such refusal is unjust he shall order the refusing company association or exchange to forthwith issue such policy of insurance to the owner. If such insurance company association or exchange does not appeal as hereinafter provided and fails to comply with the order of the Secretary of Highways after the time for an appeal therefrom the Secretary of Highways may in his discretion refuse to accept the policies of such refusing association or exchange under section three (a) of this act. All testimony before the Secretary of Highways or his agent at such hearing shall be absolutely privileged and shall under no circumstances be made the basis of any other subsequent court action by any of the parties thereto or by any person copartnership association or corporation claiming by or through such parties.

Section 10 Appeals From Decisions of the Secretary of Highways Within thirty days after the rendition of any such decision by the Secretary of Highways any party in interest may appeal therefrom to the court of common pleas of Dauphin county or to the court of common pleas of any county in which the owner is resident or to the court of common pleas of any county in which any corporation has its principal office and upon such appeal the case shall be tried de novo and with a jury at the election of either party where any question of fact is involved. The court shall direct upon any such appeal what notices shall be given to parties interested including the Secretary of Highways of the time fixed by the court for hearing such appeal.

The record of the proceedings and the evidence taken before the Secretary of Highways or his agent may be read in evidence.

From any decision of the court of common pleas sustaining or revoking the decision or order of the Secretary of Highways and party in interest may appeal to the Superior or Supreme Court as in other cases. Failure of any insurance company association or exchange to obey the final order of the court entered as above provided shall subject the offender to proceedings for contempt.

Section 11 Constitutionality The provisions of this act are severable and if any of the provisions thereof shall be declared unconstitutional it is hereby declared as a legislative intent that such decision shall not affect the remaining provisions of this act.

Section 12 All acts and parts of acts inconsistent with the provisions of this act are hereby repealed.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

TUESDAY, March 31, 1925.

The House met at 11:00 o'clock A. M.

The SPEAKER (Thomas Bluett) in the Chair.

PRAYER.

The Chaplain, Rev. George P. Donehoo, offered the following prayer:

Our gracious Heavenly Father, we pray Thee this beautiful morning that Thou wouldst help each one of us to realize that no matter what positions we may hold in this world, that after all we are but individual men and women with our own personal cares and trials and burdens and joys; that however exalted a position we may have, we have our personal burdens to carry. Therefore we ask Thee this morning to bless us each one as men and as women, being with us in everything that we do, helping us to bear our burdens, being with us in sickness and in sorrow and giving us faith to believe always that a better and a brighter and a more glorious experience is coming for every one of us. Bless this House and its Speaker and every one today here in Thy presence, we ask in Thy name. Amen.

JOURNAL APPROVED.

The SPEAKER. The Clerk will read the Journal of day's proceedings.

The Clerk proceeded to read the Journal of yesterday's proceedings, when, on motion of Mr. Colville, the further reading was dispensed with and the Journal approved.

BILL PLACED ON CALENDAR.

Mr. HUBER. Mr. Speaker, I move that House Bill No. 459, file folio 4997, entitled:

An Act to repeal the act approved the eleventh day of May one thousand nine hundred twenty-one (Pamphlet Laws four hundred and seventy-nine) entitled an act "Imposing a State tax on anthracite coal providing for the assessment and collection thereof and providing penalties for the violation of this act" known as the Anthracite Coal Tax Repealer, be placed upon the calendar, notwithstanding the negative recommendation of the committee.

Mr. MILLAR. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

Mr. HUBER. The purpose of this motion, Mr. Speaker and members of the House, is to place the bill back on the calendar and then we will refer it to the Ways and Means Committee for a public hearing. The question was brought up sometime ago with reference to all tax bills, it was a little late at this time to bring up the question of taxation. I want to give you a little history of this bill. On page 78 of the House History, this bill was introduced on February 3rd. It was referred to the Mines and Mining Committee where it remained for three weeks. It was placed on the calendar on February 25th. It was then referred to the Committee on Ways and Means where it remained for four weeks. Now, in all fairness, gentlemen, I only ask you to place this bill on the calendar so we can have a public hearing on it. There are hundreds of thousands of miners up in the anthracite region together with the operators who are very much interested in this bill and I ask you to vote aye on this motion.

Mr. HESS. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I am of the opinion that we as members of the Legislature during the session of 1925 have established a reputation with the people of the Commonwealth as endeavoring to conduct a business session. When the House early in the session passed a resolution to adjourn sine die on April 16, I heard a very great deal of favorable comment from men from all parts of this Commonwealth. We created the impression that during the session of 1925 we intended to conduct the business of the Commonwealth in a business way. We reinforced that reputation when this House and the Senate proceeded to determine as accurately as possible as early in the session as possible just what the revenues of the State would be for the two years ensuing, so that we would know just what amount of money was available for appropriations to the various institutions and departments of the Commonwealth. The Auditor General handed in his opinion and his estimates as to what those revenues would amount to. The Honorable Mr. King not only handed in his estimates but he employed specialists, special accountants to assist him in arriving at, as nearly as possible, an accurate determination of what the revenues of this Commonwealth would amount to. Now it is true there was a slight variation in the estimates, but there was no variation as to the basis upon which these revenues should be obtained. In the very beginning of the session, we did the thing which was proper and right to do at that time, determine the amount of revenue available for the various purposes that could be distributed by this Legislature, and never a question at that time was raised as to the sources from which that revenue should be obtained. Now, I submit to you that if there was at any time an occasion, or if there was at any time a reason why the source of revenue should be questioned, why a change in this source should be made it was at that time early in the session, but at that time never a question was raised as to this. Now, when we have gone down through the session, when the General Appropriation Bill is through the House, when the appropriations are allotted to all of the various state institutions, when the departments have had allotment to them the sums of money that in the wisdom of the Appropriations Committee and to the membership of this House it was possible to give them, an effort is being made to strike at the very foundation of our entire session's work, by changing the basis of appropriating revenues by this Commonwealth. It is true men that we may disagree as to some of the items of the General Appropriation Bill, but as business men let us get together and adjust those items properly. If we are in error in some of the items that are contained in that General Appropriation Bill then as business men let us get together and adjust them. That bill is now in the Appropriations Committee of the Senate. That bill is now open for public hearings, that bill is now open to the heads of the various departments to come before the committee and declare their needs, but I submit that as business men we can make our adjustments, and that that is no excuse for at this late day striking at the very foundation and undoing the work that we have done during the session, destroying the structure that we have built during all these weeks and changing the entire basis upon which the revenues of this State shall be gotten. This motion is to place upon the calendar, notwithstanding the negative recommendation by the Ways and Means Committee, House Bill No. 459, and the request is made that it shall be immediately recommitted to the Committee on Ways and Means for the purpose of a hearing. We have already been told that this bill had originally been committed to the Committee on Mines and Mining and stayed there for four weeks. Then it came out on the floor of the House and was committed to the Committee on Ways and Means and stayed there for weeks. There was opportunity after opportunity to have a hearing on this bill and no hearing was requested. Now, at this late day when we are only a few weeks for the time set for final adjournment, and I want to say to the members of this House, that if this Legislature adjourns sine die on the 16th of April, 1925, that one fact will go further to impress the minds of the business men of this Commonwealth that we here have earnestly attempted to conduct a business session than any other one thing we can do. Now, at this late day this effort is made to break open, blast out this entire program, change the entire basis upon which the revenues of this Commonwealth shall be obtained. What does that mean? That means a change in this entire program, and I say to you a little difference of opinion as to a number of items does not justify such a radical method. We have come to the time that that matter should be adjusted and we have settled it and we have set the time for adjournment sine die on the 16th of April, and that must remain so. If you begin to break it all open you will clutter the calendar with all manner of legislation, and you will simply jam the end of this session in such a way as to defeat a lot of very worthy legislation, the Omnibus Bill is one of them. You will find a lot of meritorious legislation will go down in the late jam. I submit to the members of this House that we cannot recall a prior session in our experience when the General Appropriation Bill was disposed of or so nearly disposed of was disposed of so far as this House is concerned so early in the achievements in this session that auger for good business, and I submit to you that we ought not at this late day blast out the entire foundation for the superstructure we laid. If there is any difference of opinion and to several items, or half a dozen of items for that matter in the General Appropriation Bill, let us get together like men and adjust them, but not blast them out the foundation of the entire structure. I submit to you members that it would be a mistake to put this bill back on the calendar at this time and I ask you to vote no and go along with the business of this session and accomplish it in the splendid manner that we have been doing up to this time and the people of this Commonwealth will have confidence in us and thank us for it.

Mr. STAUDENMEIER. Mr. Speaker may I interrogate the gentleman from Lancaster, Mr. Hess?

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Lancaster, Mr. Hess permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. HESS. I will, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. STAUDENMEIER. Has the gentleman early in the session heard of the Anthracite Coal Repealer?

Mr. HESS. I have heard of it, yes, for a number of sessions.

Mr. STAUDENMEIER. Then why the remark that this bill was not filed early in the session?

Mr. HESS. I think you misunderstood me, I said there was no request made for a hearing.

Mr. STAUDENMEIER. No request made for a hearing. Very well, that is all.

Mr. Speaker and members of the House the Anthracite Coal Tax Repealer was before this House in the Committee on Ways and Means as early as the beginning of the month of February. It lay there for four weeks in peaceful repose. Every effort made to bring this bill out was blocked by motives which are known to the committee and every member of this House. Finally the bill was brought out of the Mines and Mining Committee on the floor of this House, and then it was discovered that this bill, No. 459, file 1603, needed study. It was such a complicated matter that it had to be referred to the Committee on Ways and Means. I ask you in all fairness members, to read bill No. 459, file 1603, and see if there is anything in there that is so intangible, so complicated that it needs study. Now, why not call a spade a spade. Why not be fair with each other. I sincerely doubt whether any body of men in this House have been as fair, or more fair than the members of the anthracite coal regions. When delegations from different sections of the state came to us time and time again in this session and asked us what we proposed to do, we had a little meeting and told them what we were going to do. We didn't say that it is necessary to have a hearing or that it is necessary to study the bill. No, because we people who come from that rugged region have been in the habit of saying what we need, and saying it openly and above board. That is all we are asking from the members of this House. If they feel so inclined to give us a slap in the face, if they don't want to give us a hearing on this bill, that is their privilege, but do it in a manly way. Don't bring threats that if this bill goes through, is brought on the calendar and sent back to the Ways and Means Committee that the Omnibus Bill is jeopardized. Why that, is poppycock, absolutely poppycock. It is simply dilly-dallying. It is throwing out a smoke screen. The gentleman from Lancaster would certainly make a splendid jury trial lawyer. Any body that in all sincerity could make statements of that type, he should not be a manufacturer, he ought to be engaged in the law business. He missed his vocation. There is absolutely nothing in this bill that is going to jeopardize the Omnibus Bill, and I say that without fear of contradiction. If there is anybody in this House that can convince me to the contrary I am open to conviction just the same as is every member of the anthracite coal region. Let us be fair, that is all we are asking, open and above board. Now, it was also stated that no request was made for a public hearing in the Ways and Means Committee. In all fairness to the gentleman from Philadelphia, Chairman of that Committee, he told us time and time again that the matter was being given due consideration and at the proper time would be brought out on the floor of the House, but he didn't know how it would be brought out. It lay there practically four weeks for study and investigation. I know that the members of that Ways and Means Committee are intelligent enough to grasp the contents of this bill within a few moments and it is unfair at this time to say that when we were discussing what revenues we had and what money could be obtained, and what was needed, that this anthracite coal repealer was not in the minds of the members of this House, in the minds of the members of the Ways and Means Committee and also in the minds of the members of the Appropriation Committee. All we are asking is that we keep faith with the members of the House of 1921, who when this tax was passed stated it was to be an emergency tax. That is all. We are keeping faith with those men and I, without fear of contradiction, feel that the emergency has passed. We have paid the deficiency which the Governor when he came into office said he was going to clean up. I think it is cleaned up, or least it is reputed to be cleaned up. I think now is the proper time to wipe this bill off the statute books. Let it go back to the Ways and Means Committee and if it has any merits let it be brought out in public hearing, but don't let the bill die there. That is all we are asking. Let us be fair with each other.

Mr. HARER. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I think the gentleman from Lancaster is unduly alarmed by an explosion here. If there is an explosion I don't think it will be of the kind he refers to. The request of the gentleman from Lackawanna to my mind is a very modest request. He is simply asking to have this bill reconsidered and put back into the committee to be considered at the same time that other bills are being considered. I don't think there is anything unfair in that. The opinions of the two committees differ. The Ways and Means Committee brought it out negatively, the Committee on Mines and Mining reported it affirmatively. Now, it is just a question of putting it back so that the bill can be studied with the other bills. I think that this motion ought to prevail.

Mr. SARIG. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, only last week we placed on the calendar the Armstrong Manufacturer's Tax Bill. We referred it back to the committee for a public hearing. Now, we have heard time and again on the floor of this House, that our system of taxation in Pennsylvania looks like a big piece of patch work. The Armstrong Bill is part of a definite program. To my mind it represents the most clear-cut and most definite revenue program that has been in this House in ten years, during all the time that I have been here. That program, as you understand, includes the enactment of the Armstrong Law and the repeal of three of these so-called nuisance taxes, among which is this particular tax on anthracite coal. Now, what is the sense, what is the use of putting the Armstrong Bill on the calendar and referring it back to the Committee for a hearing if we are not going to consider the other three? That is part of a definite program and we cannot consider intelligently one part of this program and ignore the rest of it. They must be considered together. The proper way to do this and the only way to do it as I see it is to take this bill put it on the calendar and send it back to the committee and let it be considered at a public hearing along with the Armstrong Bill because as I said a minute ago this is the first definite revenue program that has really been before this House in the last ten years. I feel that in fairness we should now, because we have already placed the Armstrong Bill on the calendar and have sent it back, in fairness we should now place this bill on the calendar, refer it back to the committee so that this program can be considered by this House and by this Legislature.

This is a matter of such vital importance that I feel the House itself should have the right to say whether this program shall be adopted or shall not be adopted but that is not the question before us now, that question we will have to consider later on. but the only question before us now is that we shall give this House and this Legislature the right and the privilege to say whether it wants to adopt this well defined revenue program that has been brought forward by the gentleman from Armstrong, Mr. Armstrong. I feel that we should put this bill on the calendar, refer it back and have it considered as a part of the program to which it belongs.

Mr. LONG. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, my friend from Lancaster, in referring to certain magnificent accomplishments used the plural "we", but inadvertently did not include in those accomplishments of which one of the star acts was the cutting of $7,000,000 of the schools, his friends on the side lines who took the responsibility for this magnificent program—

POINT OF ORDER.

Mr. ALEXANDER. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a point of order.

The SPEAKER. The gentlemen will state his point of order.

Mr. ALEXANDER. The gentleman from Chester is not talking on the question before the House.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will confine himself to the motion of Mr. Huber to place this bill on the calendar notwithstanding the negative recommendation.

Mr. LONG. Mr. Speaker, I would like to say that in the Ways and Means Committee of which I am a member no consideration was given this bill until the time the bill was taken up, and without a hearing, without any discussion as to its merits was reported to this House with a negative recommendation. The proposition of the sponsor is so fair that I feel no debate is needed. There is no attempt whatsoever and will be no attempt to force a vote upon this bill that might in any way jeopardize the ending of this session on April 16. We only want it back on the calendar so that it can be immediately referred to the committee and considered in connection with certain revenue measures and certain repealers to see if it is at all possible to put such a program through in the short space of time remaining, and if it is not possible there will be no thought of doing this. I would like to call the attention of our friends who voted for a Manufacturer's Tax Bill last Wednesday that this anthracite block voted solidly with us, and as a matter of fairness and as a matter of reciprocity we should return that compliment and vote solidly for this motion. We only ask for a hearing. There is no attempt to destroy the entire revenue program. There is no attempt to get this House in a jam, the only attempt is to permit the bill to have serious consideration and a public hearing which it has not had. I would ask you to vote "aye" on the motion.

Mr. ARMSTRONG. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I feel that it is my duty to say a word on this bill in as much as I made a statement a week ago that if the manufacturer's tax bill was returned to the Committee on Ways and Means that it would be a step in adjusting the tax question. I also referred to this bill and to others, the repeal of two other taxes, which the manufacturer's tax, if passed, will take care of it. I feel that in all fairness this bill should go back to the committee the same as the manufacturer's tax bill and also any other bills that are on this program. I hope that the friends who voted to put the manufacturer's tax bill back will do the same for this measure. Before I sit down I want to thank the gentleman from Berks for referring to the Armstrong Bill as the only constructive measure that has been presented.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the motion.

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. Flynn and Mr. Goodnough were as follows.

NAYS—0.

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk return the same to the Senate with information that the House has passed it with amendments in which the concurrence of the Senate is requested.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1, entitled:

An Act creating a Geographic Board in the Department of Internal Affairs and abolishing the present board in the Department of Forests and Waters

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. WHEELER. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the sponsor of this bill.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Delaware, Mr. Alexander, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. ALEXANDER. I will, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. WHEELER. Will the gentleman from Delaware state whether this is or is not simply a change in the legislation of last session; known as the administrative code?

Mr. ALEXANDER. It is an amendment to a section of the administrative code.

Mr. WHEELER. Will the gentleman further state his purpose in changing this bureau back again?

Mr. ALEXANDER. I will, Mr. Speaker. I have been asked to explain the purpose of amending the administrative code as is proposed in the bill which is now before you. In the first place, my purpose in doing this is because the Constitution of Pennsylvania provides for just such a thing as this, that is the first thought. Now, in order to state my position in this connection, I wish to say this: we were told in 1923 that this was progressive legislation. Well if the crab going backwards is progression then this is the kind of progression that we have had, and I will explain to you just why I say that. Under the Constitution of 1790, and head I am going back a good ways, the sole power of appointment was in the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylv.

vania; not only the power of appointment but he was the one executive had. He had the power to appoint everybody in the Commonwealth from a constable up. They progressed a little bit in those days, and in 1838 we had what we call the "Reform Constitution," so you see they had reformers even back that far. They had the reform constitution which still left the executive head in the Governor, but they took away from the Governor all his appointive powers except the appointment of judges and the appointment of the Auditor General of the Commonwealth. Not satisfied with that, however, an amendment to the Constitution of 1838, which was passed in 1850, took away from the Governor, who is still the sole executive head, the appointment of the Judges and left only in his power to the appointment of the Auditor General. It seems to me that this is of some importance and it seems to me the members of this House, at least I know a number of them, would like to hear what I have to say. The present Constitution of 1874 was adopted in the convention of 1873, and to show that the people had changed in their views of 1838 and 1850, they changed the whole executive department from that of a single man to eight heads, mind you eight heads—not one, and those eight heads consisted of the Governor; the Lieutenant Governor; the Secretary of Internal Affairs the Auditor General; the State Treasurer; the Secretary of the Commonwealth; the Attorney General and the Superintendent of Public Instruction. That same Constitution provided—that is the Constitution under which we are working to-day or supposed to be working to-day—that constitution provides that of these eight executive heads five of them shall be elected by the people of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania. If you will read the first section of article four of the Constitution in which they are named, you will find that neither one nor the other of them is written either in italics or underscored. It was not the intent that any one of these executive heads should be any more important to the executive department in the administration of the affairs of this Commonwealth than the other. They were all equal and, in a great measure, each was supposed to administer the affairs of this Commonwealth. As I said before, five of those—the Governor; the Lieutenant Governor; the Auditor General; the State Treasurer, and the Secretary of the Commonwealth were elected by the people. I said the Secretary of the Commonwealth was elected by the people but I mean the Secretary of Internal Affairs. The Attorney General and the Secretary of the Commonwealth are appointed by the Governor. Likewise, the Superintendent of Public Instruction is appointed by the Governor but then a restriction is put on the Governor to the effect that he cannot appoint a Superintendent of Public Instruction for a term of less than four years. You can see, therefore, the idea and thought of the framers of this Constitution. I want to call your attention again to what I said before, that five of the members of that executive head are elected by the people; the Governor for one term; the Lieutenant Governor for one term; the Auditor General for one term, and the State Treasurer for one term, but your Secretary of Internal Affairs can succeed himself as often as the people of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania have confidence in his management of their affairs and want to elect him for some reason or another upon which I will give my opinion later on. So, the Secretary of Internal Affairs is the only elective officer who can succeed himself. We ask, therefore, why this is and your inquiry leads you to the next step, and what it is? The Constitution provides, when we turn to the affairs and the duties of the Secretary of Internal Affairs—we turn to section nineteen of article four—and there read that the Secretary of Internal Affairs shall exercise all the powers and perform all the duties of the surveyor-general, and let me say hear in passing that the surveyor-general is the oldest officer in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania. The surveyor-general was appointed by William Penn before he appointed the Governor, and it was his duty to make a survey of all the lands under his control. Therefore, we have the fact that it is the duty of the Secretary of Internal Affairs to carry out the duties of that office. In addition to that, his department shall embrace that bureau of industrial statistics and he shall discharge such duties relating to corporations, to charitable institutions, the agricultural, manufacturing, mining, mineral, timber and other material or business interests of the Commonwealth as may be prescribed by law. He shall annually and at such other times as may be required by law make report to the General Assembly. There is another place in that Constitution where it provides that none of these duties shall be performed by anyone else. Now then, coming back again, he shall perform such duties pertaining to corporations, charitable institutions, agricultural, manufacturing, mining, mineral, timber and other material or business interests of the Commonwealth. Where then does this bureau for it is only a bureau—the geographic board—where does that belong more than under the administration of the business affairs of this Commonwealth? That was the intention of the Constitution and I want to show you a little further about this Constitution. The more you read it the more you are convinced that the men who wrote the Constitution of 1874 were sound and sane. They were good men to follow; they had no political bees in their bonnets, and they had only one thought and that was looking to see that the affairs of this Commonwealth were administered fairly and honorably and on a business basis, and when I said that these executive heads consisted of eight members; we have there the Governor, who is the president of the corporation; we have the Secretary of the Commonwealth, who is the secretary of the corporation; we have the Secretary of Internal Affairs, who shall be the General Manager of its affairs, and we have the Auditor General and the State Treasurer who are the checks and balances over the whole machinery, and I ask you what more complete organization could any corporation have than that? Now, under the administrative code they have taken every thing out of the manager's hands; they have left the Secretary of Internal Affairs almost destitute, and the Governor has assumed under that code the full control of all of the affairs of this Commonwealth. In other words, he has said to you and to the people of this Commonwealth, "Yes, it is true that you elected five administrative heads but I am the only one who it fit to manage the affairs of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania." I submit to you that no man in this House who knows the ability of the Secretary of Internal Affairs of this Commonwealth; the man who started the great water power plant about which we have heard so much; the man who, in the first place, started the topographical and geological survey; the man who organized his department and who started, in 1919 under Governor Sproul, and put in a reorganization to make him the general manager of the affairs of this State, I submit to you that there is no man in the hearing of my voice or elsewhere better able to manage the affairs with the assistance of the other four heads in this important administrative department than is General Woodward, and he is the man who has been elected now for a second time to this office as manager of the affairs of the Commonwealth. And I ask here now that this geographical board, in compliance with the Constitution of Pennsylvania, be placed back in Mr. Woodward's office and that we help reorganize that office which, as you understand, is a constitutional office and which as a constitutional office is one of the cogs in the great wheel just as much as is your Governor and Lieutenant Governor. I ask you not only on this bill but on the next one and this is practically an explanation of the next one—and may I not while I am on my feet say something about it which will save me explaining the next one—I want to say something about that. That was organized in the first place in the Secretary of Internal Affairs' Department, and why? It was believed then by Governor Sproul and by those men who knew about the workings of the great departments, and I may say also by the late Senator Penrose—he was one of the organizers of that department—it was felt that the department while making the great topographical and geological surveys of the Commonwealth that it was necessary not only to the State but to every other State in the Union. Nearly every other State is doing that, and they thought that that one should be placed under the management of the Secretary of Internal Affairs of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania and that that department of topographical and geological survey could be used to co-operate with every other department here on the hill, as it has co-operated with the Highway Department; as it has co-operated with the Department of Forestry and with the Agricultural Department and every other department on the hill. Yet, under the administrative code, both this board and the topographical and geological survey boards were taken out of this administrative department of one of the constitutional officers of the Commonwealth, it being under the management of the Secretary of Internal Affairs, and is was placed in one of the bureaus of a department the head of which is not even a constitutional officer, being an appointee of the Governor. As I say, it was taken away from an administrative officer; it was taken away from one of the men for whom you voted and elected as one of the executive board of this Commonwealth and placed under merely a bureau. In my mind, this should be under the control of the Secretary of Internal Affairs. As I said before, the two bureaus that you are asked to place back in that office is the geographic board and the topographic and geological survey department, and let me explain a little about the geological survey. Dr. Ashley, a very competent geologist, says it will require about $300,000,000 to complete this survey. Of course, the sooner it is completed—the sooner that great survey is completed the less expense it will be to the Commonwealth. Under a program of $150,000 a year extended over a period of twelve years, your overhead is that much greater. If, however, more money is appropriated and it is extended over a period of only four years, you will have less overhead so far as that department is concerned, and yet since it has been under the Bureau of Forests and Waters by reason of the fact that it was hampered for an appropriation, and it was hampered, it has not been able to progress in any one instance in the last two years. Put this board, a great and important board as it is, under the control of the Secretary of Internal Affairs, the manager of the Commonwealth. That is the only business way in which we can do it and, therefore, I ask you to vote both for this bill and for the bill following this, that these boards be placed together with the Secretary of Internal Affairs and let that officer do a part of the work which one of the bureaus at the present time is attempting to do. Some one has called my attention to an evident slip of the tongue on my part. I have been so used to speaking in millions here on the floor of this House that it is evident I made a mis-statement. Dr. Ashley stated that to complete this survey, this topographical and geological survey, approximately $300,000 would be necessary instead of $300,000,000, as someone informed me I said.

Mr. EDMONDS. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the sponsor of this bill.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Delaware, Mr. Alexander, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. ALEXANDER. I will, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. EDMONDS. With reference to bill No. 1, which is the one relating to the geographical board, have you made any change in the membership of the board or is the change merely that the board is transferred to the Department of Internal Affairs?

Mr. ALEXANDER. My impression is that there is no change except transferring it to the Secretary of Internal Affairs, but if you will just wait a moment I will look that up to be sure. It is my recollection that the Commissioner of Forests and Waters is the chairman of these boards, and under these bills the Secretary of Internal Affairs will be the chairman. May I not add further that the functions of this board are executive and administrative functions and consequently it ought to be committed to the Department of Internal Affairs under the Constitution.

Mr. EDMONDS. May I not ask the gentleman if under the provisions of article four, section two, of the Constitution, which provides that the supreme executive power shall be vested in the Governor who shall take care that the laws be faithfully executed, if it would not seem as though the executive functions have something also to do with the Governor?

Mr. ALEXANDER. As a law, yes. But just as I said in the beginning, it is the same thing as in any other corporation: the Governor is the president of the corporation and not the general manager of its affairs.

Mr. EDMONDS. What is your idea as to the meaning of the Constitution where it says that the supreme power shall be vested in the Governor?

Mr. ALEXANDER. Just as I said before, he shall be the president of the corporation.

Mr. EDMONDS. And that would mean that he would have a kind of oversight over the working of the corporation?

Mr. ALEXANDER. Absolutely, and that is what he would have here.

Mr. EDMONDS. The workings of the corporation under the different officials who would report to him?

Mr. ALEXANDER. That is true, and the other boards would also have their power as cogs in this wheel.

Mr. EDMONDS. Mr. Speaker, with reference to this proposed bill, No. 1, personally I intend to vote "No" on it, although I do not regard it as an important piece of legislation. I shall vote "No" upon this general principle. So far as the Constitution is concerned, the Supreme Court has passed upon all of the aspects of the administrative code presented to it and has decided that it is constitutional. The administrative code was enacted two years ago after a great deal of careful consideration. It was my own feeling then that the intention was that the administrative code should be given fair play. In other words, attempt was made to see whether or not by uniting most of the executive functions, such as could be united under the Constitution, we might not be able to obtain a better supervision over expenses. So far as I have been able to determine, I think it has worked well and I think it would be a mistake to change the administrative code merely after two years of trial. For that reason, this bill, although it does not appeal to me as an important matter it does seem to me to be an attempt to break down the wall, and I am doubtful whether we ought to do it until a complete and thorough trial has been made of the administrative code.

Mr. ALEXANDER. Mr. Speaker, I want to say just one more word and that is to call your attention to the adroit explanation of the gentleman from Philadelphia that this administrative code, in every particular in which the question has been brought before the Supreme Court it has been declared constitutional. That is correct. In other words, it has been held that the caption is constitutional but they said that were the different clauses brought to their attention as to the constitutionality of them, they would not decide that at this time. That question has not been brought before them and that is the reason why at the present time such a decision was made.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows, viz:

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 2, entitled:

An Act to amend sections two hundred and four and seven hundred and nine of the act approved the seventh day of June one thousand nine hundred and twenty-three (Pamphlet Laws four hundred ninety-eight) entitled "An act providing for and reorganizing the conduct of the executive and administrative work of the Commonwealth by the Executive Department thereof and certain existing and certain new administrative departments boards commissions and officers abolishing combining changing the names of reorganizing or authorizing the reorganization of certain administrative departments boards commissions bureaus divisions offices and agencies defining the powers and duties of the Governor and other executive and administrative officers and of the several administrative departments boards and commissions fixing the salaries of the Governor Lieutenant Governor and certain other executive and administrative officers providing for the appointment of certain administrative officers and of all deputies and other assistants and employees in certain departments boards and commissions and prescribing the manner in which the number and compensation of the deputies and all other assistants and employes of certain departments boards and commissions shall be determined" providing for the personnel of the Executive Board and its powers and duties

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading,

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. ALEXANDER. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, as this bill is somewhat different from the other two bills and as I did not say anything directly touching on this bill when I was on my feet before, I think it is no more than fair to you members that I explain this bill. This, in my mind, is one of the important bills. I have already explained the constitutional provisions as to the executive heads. You have also heard the interrogation which would direct your attention to the proposition that the Governor, notwithstanding that you elect four other honorable gentlemen, was the whole show. I do not agree with that proposition; I have never agreed to that proposition, and I never will agree to that proposition, it would not make any difference if the honorable gentleman from Philadelphia would talk until he is red in the face. No man power ever was successful anywhere, either in Pennsylvania or Russia, and it never will be a success. Now let us see: This relates to the clause in the Constitution relative to the Executive Board. The Executive Board has held that the standardization of salaries of the appointees in the executive offices, all except the constitutional offices which they except—I meant under the administration code,—because they knew it would be contrary to the constitution and interfere with the constitutional office. I cannot see why, if you are going to have an executive board whose duties are as important as this is, why there should not be such an executive board that they should not only standardize their own—I must admit it is a pretty bum speaker that cannot keep order himself without asking for order to be called and therefore I must admit I am not very interesting this morning although I am trying to do the best I possibly can and I think this is all due to myself. I take the blame on myself for not being able to interest you because I know on many other occasions I have had absolute quietness in this House, ordinarily, I do, for which I am thankful. It is pretty hard to make the members in the back rows hear me, and I think that is the reason I had so many "noes" on the last two votes, perhaps because they did not hear what I was saying; that is the excuse they give me, anyhow, that they cannot hear what I say, and therefore I hope you in the front will keep a little quiet so that they can hear back there.

As I said before, the Executive Departments, consisting of eight heads, all have their certain work to do. Now, under the administrative Code, it provides that the Executive Board that has to do with the standardization of the different salaries, consists of the Governor, who shall be chairman. To that I have no objection. My bill provides the same thing. But it provides further that the other four members shall be administrative heads, four administrative heads to be appointed by the Governor. I said when that bill was passed that what the Governor would do would be to appoint four of his appointees over whom he had absolute power to fire them if he wanted to, if they did not do just as he wanted them to do; and that is just exactly what he did; in fact, he went a little bit farther than I expected him to, and here is who he appointed. He appointed the Secretary of the Commonwealth as one of the Executive Board, and I would not have so much complaint about that, although it is his appointee. Then the Attorney General, and I would not have so much complaint about that, although he is one of the Governor's appointees. And the next is really a bureau, not a department, not an executive department, I mean the Secretary of Highways. And the last of all is the straw that breaks the camel's back, his own private secretary, Mr. Stahlnecker, as the fourth member of that Executive Board to standardize the salaries. He leaves out of there the four members which you gentlemen and which your constituencies vote for, as members of this Executive Board, and he says by that that the people of Pennsylvania did not know what they were doing when they voted for them, and they should have nothing to do with the management of the affairs of this Commonwealth; and I ask any man who is not bound down and who is not standing here today simply to do the bidding of the Governor, I ask whether it is honorable and fair to the constituency of Pennsylvania that the men who are elected to the offices to help manage the affairs of this State are absolutely ignorant and should not be consulted about the management of the affairs of this Commonwealth, especially on the great question of standardization of salaries. Now, let us forget for a minute that we are following any master, forget for a minute, if we can, that we have any one master except our constituency back home, and let us look this squarely in the face, and I ask you whether there is any reason under the sun why this executive board—and understand we are not legislating today, only for today or tomorrow, we are legislating after this man goes out of office, and this means for the next administration as well as for this,—and I ask you if it is a proper place to put this in the hands of one man, because, after all, that is what you have because if the other men do not do what he wants them to do, he can fire them, and that has been done in other places besides the Executive Board when they did not do just as he wanted them to do. I found that out just this last week. But, however, that is not talking on the question, my friends, and some of you might try to get square with me after awhile, so I will come back again.

This bill provides that the Governor shall be the chairman of this Executive Board, and the other four members shall be the Secretary of Internal Affairs, that honorable gentleman who has been twice elected by the people of this Commonwealth, and I have no doubt if he is a candidate again, the people of this Commonwealth have enough confidence in his administration of affairs to re-elect him for his third term; and I have the temerity in this bill to say that he is a fit person to be on that Executive Board, he having been connected with these administrative affairs for the last thirty years, both in this House and as State Senator, and now as the Secretary of Internal Affairs, and as being the chairman of the Appropriations Committee of this House for a great number of years; and I say again, I have the temerity to recommend him as a member of this board; and I have the temerity again to recommend the appointment on this board of the Lieutenant Governor, who is second to the Governor and if we should lose the Governor, for some reason or other, either by death or resignation the Lieutenant Governor would take his place. Why then should not he be one of this Executive Board, especially rather than have the Private Secretary of the Governor a member? The next I name your two fiscal officers, your Auditor General and your State Treasurer. If you can tell me why under the sun the two fiscal officers of the Commonwealth, part of the Executive Board under the Constitution and two of the men that are elected by the constituency of Pennsylvania, should not be a part of this board, then, if you can, and you are satisfied that they should not be, I have nothing more to say. If these men who are elected as your checks and balances should not be members of the Executive Board, who under the sun should be; and would you believe that even the Executive Board, even the Auditor General and the State Treasurer, during the last two years, have been very little consulted on any questions relative to standardization or anything else. Why under the sun, I say, is there any reason why these men,—rather than the appointees,—the men whom you elect to these important offices should not bear their responsibilities and perform their duties to which you elected them? And I ask you to vote for this bill.

Mr. LUDLOW. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Delaware.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Delaware permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. ALEXANDER. I will, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. LUDLOW. The gentleman from Delaware understands, of course, does he not, that the Governor, the Lieutenant Governor and the Secretary of Internal Affairs are elected at one time, and that the Auditor General and the State Treasurer are elected two years later?

Mr. ALEXANDER. I certainly do.

Mr. LUDLOW. Does the gentleman from Delaware believe it to be a wise policy,—if we both forget for the moment the president incumbent,—does the gentleman from Delaware believe it to be a wise policy to have a man elected as Governor, as the head of a party on a platform, and then to have his policies or whatever it may be controlled by any board of two men who would be elected two years later under this Executive Board?

Mr. ALEXANDER. I certainly would say that an Executive Board should be composed of men well qualified for their positions, men who, by reason of their practical knowledge and their experience in the affairs of this Commonwealth should be on this board rather than four newcomers who come in with the Governor but do not know anything more about the administration of the affairs of the Commonwealth than the Governor himself generally does when he first comes in.

Mr. LUDLOW. Does the gentleman from Delaware believe that it weakens the responsibility of the next Governor if we divide his authority with men elected two years after that Governor's election?

Mr. ALEXANDER. I do not think it was ever intended that the responsibility should rest upon the shoulders of any one man, but the five executives elected by the people were elected to carry their own responsibilities just the same as each member of the House of Representatives or, if not so, why were they elected?

Mr. LUDLOW. Mr. Speaker, and members of the House, I only want to add a word to the questions I have just asked. It has been our party policy to elect a Governor, and each four years that Governor, or the party which elects him, go on record before the people at home as to the policy for which he stands. If the gentleman from Delaware were to come in here, putting the Lieutenant Governor on the Executive Board, who goes before the people at the same time, it might present a different story, but two years after the Governor and the Lieutenant Governor are elected, and also the Secretary of Internal Affairs, we have two men elected that have nothing to do with the administration and political policies of the party who elected them. One is the watchdog of the treasury, and that is the Auditor General; and the other is the Treasurer himself. When it comes down to administering things for which your Governor two years from now, elected next spring and taking office two years from now, has to answer to the people, it seems to me that he finally is responsible. I hold no brief for the present incumbent. I am thinking of the next Governor and I myself and every one present will take part in electing him and if you fix the responsibility on him and make him responsible his appointees at the same time will reflect what he thinks. Let them all realize the responsibility placed upon him. That is why we elected him and that is why I personally think it would be a mistake to break down the Board in the way intended.

Mr. ALEXANDER. Just one answer, if the gentleman from Berks will allow and bear with me a minute. There has been mention made about the two men who are elected two years after the Governor. Any argument is better than nothing, I suppose, but he fails to tell you what a number of people around me have called my attention to, that there is still a majority on that Board, the two old members and the Governor are still a majority and I do not suppose that the two young members would take a domineering part in discharging the duties of the Board until they got acquainted any more than the four appointees would.

Mr. SARIG. Gentlemen of the House, as I listened to the rather lengthy speech of the gentleman from Delaware I was reminded of an incident that happened down in Washington some years ago. You remember during the latter part of Wilson's administration the Republican senators engaged in a filibuster in order to force an extra session of Congress. It happened one night about one o'clock when one of the Republican senators was speaking when in came John Sharp Williams, of Mississippi, one of the Democratic leaders, and in order to draw a flare out of Mr. Williams the senator who was then speaking made a sharp attack upon Thomas Jefferson. It so happened that Thomas Jefferson had been a life-long idol of Senator Williams and at once Senator Williams jumped to the floor and started a defense of Thomas Jefferson. After he had spoken an hour and three quarters one of his Democratic colleagues caught hold of and pulled his coat sleeve and said, "John, you are just playing into their hands, consuming the time and giving them a chance to recuperate their breath; don't you see you are just playing into their hands;" and John Sharp Williams turned around and said, "Damn your soul, if you don't let me alone I am going to make a speech."

Now I realize whenever the administration is concerned or the present Governor the gentleman from Delaware is rather earnest and emphatic in his remarks. However, be that as it may, I believe, along with a great many people in Pennsylvania, that a great mistake was made two years ago when the present Administrative Code was passed, when we centralized the power practically into the hands of one man. I think it is not too early and I agree with the gentleman from Delaware that it is not too early to start to undo the work that was then done and I believe that this Legislature should start right here now and begin to decentralize instead of holding on and keeping, on this present centralized form which we have at the present time. I believe that the rights and interest of the people of Pennsylvania are better served if we begin to decentralize rather than keeping up this on eman power here in this great Commonwealth. As you know, we have one of the greatest Commonwealths in the United States, and here we are with practically one man power, although we all know that the proud boast of America always has been that it stands for individual liberty and the brotherhood of the human race, yet here we are centralized, having yielded our power, having yielded our rights, until one man stands almost absolutely supreme here in this Commonwealth and has the job of practically every state employe on the palm of his hand. I believe it is not too early to start to undo the work that has been done two years ago and for that reason I shall vote for this bill.

Mr. EDMONDS. Mr. Speaker, the gentleman from Delaware has specifically invited me to take part in this debate, and rather than disappoint him I want to say a few words on the side.

First, in regard to facts: Mr. Stahlnecker, the Secretary of the Governor, is not a member of the executive board. The fifth member is the Secretary of Forests and Waters, Major Stuart. Mr. Stahlnecker serves as secretary of the Board. That however, is a small matter, but to my mind also these three bills here are not what I call exceeding important bills in the line of legislation. For my part I am more interested in seeing a proper system today that will work out properly in the long run better than anything else.

Now I want to call your attention to a tendency which I think is universal throughout the United States and that is that the executive elected by the people for the purpose of having the supreme charge of the executive work is to be given a free hand. In the olden days we did not do that. My friend is making an argument on a constitution sixty years old. I doubt very much whether some of the provisions of that constitution would win favor with the people today. What we found out is this: That as the tendency is more and more to add to the executive departments there must be a united effort in their management and the more checks and balances that you have in each the more places you have for a breakdown and you can have so many checks and balances that eventually the machine will not go. Now I think it is a fine thing that the Auditor General is elected by the people. He is the official check on the State Treasurer who is custodian of the public funds but neither of them by the Constitution are made a part of the executive work in so far as their offices are concerned.

Now, we may change this law today—for my own part I am absolutely convinced that in the long run it will be changed back again and the same thing has happened in United States Government where we have had the entire executive power under the President and in the other large industrial states that thing will happen in this country. I am certain that those who oppose are in line with the policy for the future, and I am quite convinced that the gentleman from Delaware's suggestion will win in the long run, as the Executive Department becomes bigger and bigger; but a divided management will not work, and so I shall vote "no" on this bill.

Mr. WILLIAMS. I would like to interrogate the gentleman from Delaware.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Delaware permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. ALEXANDER. Sure.

Mr. WILLIAMS. Under the present law, the Executive Board have no authority of fixing the salaries in the Departments of the Auditor General, the State Treasury and the Secretary of Internal Affairs?

Mr. ALEXANDER. That is true.

Mr. WILLIAMS. But under your bill, the Auditor General, the State Treasury and Secretary of Internal Affairs have authority to fix the salaries and compensation of employees in departments for which the executive is alone responsible?

Mr. ALEXANDER. They have the power to standardize all departments.

Mr. WILLIAMS. In other words, you give the Auditor

General, State Treasurer and Secretary of Internal Affairs the power and authority to regulate the salaries of the Executive Departments, when the Executive Department has no authority in regulating the salaries in these several departments?

Mr. ALEXANDER. The only reason they have no power is because the Constitution will not permit them to have that power, but in this bill, they are permitted to standardize all departments, including the Constitutional departments, and if one should be standardized, then all should be standardized.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, the yeas and nays were taken.

Mr. GOODNOUGH. Mr. Speaker, I ask for a verification of the roll.

The roll was verified as follows:

YEAS—124.

SENATE MESSAGE.

APPOINTMENT OF CONFERENCE COMMITTEE ON SENATE BILL.

The Clerk of the Senate being introduced, informed that the Senate insists on its nonconcurrence in the amendments made and insisted upon by the House of Representatives to Senate Bill No. 7, entitled:

An Act making an appropriation to the Home for the Training in Speech of Deaf Children before they are of school age at Belmont Avenue and Monument Road Philadelphia

And has appointed Messrs. Shantz, Patton and Kutz a committee of conference to confer with a similar committee of the House of Representatives if the House of Representatives shall appoint such committee on the subject of the differences existing between the two Houses in relation to said bill.

Mr. McCAIG. Mr. Speaker, I move that the House insist upon its amendments non-concurred in by the Senate, and that a Conference Committee be appointed on behalf of the House to confer with a similar committee appointed by the Senate

Mr. MARCUS. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

APPOINTMENT OF COMMITTEE.

The SPEAKER. As a Committee of Conference on behalf of the House, I appoint Messrs. McCaig, Alexander and Harer.

REPORT OF COMMITTEE ON RULES.

Mr. MARCUS, offered the following report of the Committee on Rules, which was twice read, as follows:

Resolved, That commencing Monday, April sixth, the Calendar shall be made up as follows:

First. Appropriation bills on first, second and third reading.

Second. House Bills on first, second and third reading, after which the Calendar shall be Senate Bills on first, second and third reading, as it is at present.

JOSEPH C. MARCUS,
J. M. FLYNN,
JOHN A. F. HALL,
SAMUEL J. PERRY,
WALTER H. CRAIG.

On the question,

Will the House adopt the report?

Mr. PERRY. Mr. Speaker, I move that the report be adopted as read.

Mr. MARCUS. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

RESOLUTION RECALLING HOUSE BILL NO. 493 FROM THE GOVERNOR.

Mr. MARCUS offered the following resolution which was twice read, considered and adopted:

In the House of Representatives March 31, 1925.

Resolved, (if the Senate concur), That House Bill No. 493, Printer's No. 758, File Folio 3835, entitled "An act providing for the levy of a poll tax in counties of the second class and abolishing therein taxes on salaries and emoluments of office, offices and posts of profit, professions, trades and occupations," be recalled from the Governor for the purpose of amendment.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

BILL ON FINAL PASSAGE RECALLED FROM THE GOVERNOR.

The SPEAKER. The Chair is advised with reference to page 1 of today's calendar, that the Bill On Final Passage Recalled From the Governor is now on file.

Agreeably to order,

BILL ON THIRD READING.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 410, entitled:

An Act to assist in ascertaining the mental condition of persons indicted for criminal offense where the existence of insanity in the defendant is claimed by way of immunity from pleading to the indictment or is to be claimed as a defense at the trial providing for the filing of such claims of immunity and for notification by the defendant to the judge of the trial court of the intention to make such defense providing for the appointment by the judge of the trial court of one or more disinterested registered physicians to testify as experts and for the allowance of fees to such experts at the expense of the county authorizing the judge to require the preparation by each of such experts who has examined or observed the defendant as to his mental condition of a written report based upon such examination or observation providing for the filing of such report and allowing the same with the permission of the judge to be read by the witness at the hearing or trial and providing for the examination of expert witnesses upon their reports and further providing for the proceedings to be taken where the existence of present insanity in the defendant is not claimed by way of immunity from pleading to the indictment and the plea of not guilty shall have been made or entered and subsequently prior to or in the course of the trial the claim of present insanity of the defendant shall be made

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

BILL POSTPONED.

Mr. SOWERS. Mr. Speaker, in the absence of the sponsor, Mr. Sterling, of House Bill No. 410, file folio 4341, I move that it be placed on the postponed calendar.

Mr. GREENSTEIN. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion. The motion was agreed to.

BILLS ON THIRD READING.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 411, entitled:

An Act further to amend the sixty-third section as amended of an act approved the thirteenth day of June one thousand eight hundred and thirty-six (Pamphlet Laws five hundred eighty-nine) entitled "An act relating to lunatics and habitual drunkards" so as to provide for the summoning at the discretion of the court of expert witnesses by the court to testify at the trial by a jury of an issue awarded if a jury trial shall be demanded or in the investigation by the court where a jury trial shall not be demanded to determine the soundness of mind of any person found a lunatic and of any alleged lunatic confined detained or under any restraint as such in any county of this Commonwealth and for the payment of the fees of such witnesses and for authorizing the preparation and reading at the trial or investigation by the court as the case may be with permission of the court of written reports of such witnesses

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. BLUMBERG. Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent to offer amendments at this time.

The SPEAKER. The amendments will be read by the Clerk for information.

The Clerk read the amendments as follows:

Amend section 1, page 2, line 18 by inserting after the word "drunkard" the following:—and of every alleged lunatic or habitual drunkard

Amend section 1, page 2, line 20 by inserting after the word "liberty" the words "and property"

Amend section 1, page 4, line 8 by underscoring all of lines 8 to 29 inclusive.

Amend section 1, page 5, line 1, by underscoring all of lines 1 to 22 inclusive

The SPEAKER. Will the House give unanimous consent to the insertion of the amendments at this time? Is there any objection? The Chair hears none, and the amendments will be inserted in accordance with the instructions of the House.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading

It was agreed to.

Ordered, That the bill as amended lie over for printing.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 889, entitled:

An Act providing for the care and maintenance by cities boroughs incorporated towns and townships of any soldiers' monument gun or carriage or other similar memorial where there is no person body or organization in existence to care for and maintain the said memorials

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. MOFFATT. Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent to offer an amendment at this time.

The SPEAKER. The amendment will be read by the Clerk for information.

The Clerk read the amendment as follows:

Amend section 1, page 2, line 1, by striking out the word "some and inserting in lieu thereof "come"

The SPEAKER. Will the House give unanimous consent to the insertion of the amendment at this time? Is there any objection? The Chair hears none, and the amendment will be inserted in accordance with the instructions of the House.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading as amended?

It was agreed to.

Ordered, That the bill as amended lie over for printing.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 537, entitled:

A Joint Resolution proposing an amendment to Section one Article nine of the Constitution of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. SOWERS. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Edmonds.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Edmonds, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. EDMONDS. With great pleasure, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. SOWERS. Does the amendment providing for the enactment of the income tax law make that constitutional in Pennsylvania.

Mr. EDMONDS. No. No income tax law at the present time is constitutional in Pennsylvania. All that this amendment does with reference to the income tax is that it provides that if ever there should be there could be exemptions of small incomes. In other words, there could be an income tax at the present time, but under the decision in Cope's Estate, with which my friend is familiar there cannot be any exemptions of income. This permits those exemptions.

Mr. SOWERS. The object of this is to permit exemptions.

Mr. EDMONDS. The object is to allow greater elasticity in taxation in Pennsylvania, and to allow exemptions if it ever becomes necessary.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows, viz:

YEAS—190.

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, that the Clerk return the same to the Senate with the information that the House has passed it without amendment.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 52, as follows:

An Act providing for the sale of property held by husband and wife as tenants by entireties where they have been divorced or have been separated for more than one year and directing the distribution of the proceeds of such sale

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That whenever any husband and wife now or hereafter holding property as tenants by entireties have been divorced or have been living apart for more than one year either of such tenants by entireties may bring suit in the court of common pleas of the county where the property is situate against the other to have the property sold and the proceeds divided between them The summons in such suit shall be served in the same manner and with like effect as in cases of partition at law

At the hearing on such suit both husband and wife shall be competent witnesses The value of the property shall be proven by the testimony of at least two impartial and disinterested witnesses

Section 2 If satisfied that the relief asked for is proper the court shall order a trustee to be appointed by the court to make public sale of said property. Said order shall provide that before making sale the trustee shall give bond in double the estimated value of the property and shall advertise the same in one or more newspapers of general circulation in the community in which the property is located and by handbills posted on the property and in other public places once a week for four consecutive weeks before the day of the sale. The order of sale shall be returnable as provided by rules of court and when confirmed such sale shall have the same effect in all respects as a public sale in proceedings in partition of real estate.

Section 3 The interest of each of the respective tenants by entireties shall be conclusively deemed to be one-half of the value of the property. The proceeds of any sale had under the provisions of this act after the payment of the expenses thereof shall be equally divided between the tenants by entireties. If the whereabouts of the defendant is unknown his or her share shall be paid into court to be disposed of as the court shall direct.

Section 4 If property held by tenants by entireties sought to be sold under the provisions of this act is located in more than one county proceedings may be had in any county where any of such land is located. Provided That in such cases all advertising required by this act shall be done in each county where any of such land is located and a certified copy of the record shall be filed in the office of the prothonotary of each of such counties and shall be received in evidence with like effect as the records of the court where filed.

Section 5 Nothing herein contained shall repeal or in anywise affect any of the provisions of the act approved the twenty-fourth day of May one thousand nine hundred and twenty-three (Pamphlet Laws four hundred and forty-six) entitled "An act authorizing the sale of real estate held by entireties by husband and wife when an order of support has been secured against the husband who has neglected to comply with the same or whose whereabouts is unknown or who has absented himself from this Commonwealth prescribing the procedure to be followed permitting husband and wife to testify providing for the disposition of the proceeds of such sale and granting a divorced woman the same rights under this act as a wife."

All other acts and parts of acts inconsistent herewith are hereby repealed.

And said bill having been read at length the third time, considered and agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk return the same to the Senate with information that the House has passed it with amendments in which the concurrence of the Senate is requested.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1134, as follows:

An Act to further amend section one thousand four hundred and two in article fourteen of an act approved the eighteenth day of May one thousand nine hundred and eleven (Pamphlet Laws three hundred and nine) entitled "An act to establish a public school system in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania together with the provisions by which it shall be administered and prescribing penalties for the violation thereof providing revenue to establish and maintain the same and the method of collecting such revenue and repealing all laws general special or local or any parts thereof that are or may be inconsistent therewith" so as to insure equal school privileges to certain dependent children of the Commonwealth.

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That section one thousand four hundred and two of article fourteen of the act approved the eighteenth day of May one thousand nine hundred and eleven (Pamphlet Laws three hundred and nine) entitled "An act to establish a public school system in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania together with the provisions by which it shall be administered and prescribing penalties for the violation thereof providing revenue to establish and maintain the same and the method of collecting such revenue and repealing all laws general special or local or any parts thereof that are or may be inconsistent therewith" which was amended by the act approved the twentieth day of May one thousand nine hundred and twenty-one (Pamphlet Laws one thousand thirty-two) entitled "An act to amend section one thousand four hundred and two of an act approved the eighteenth day of May one thousand nine hundred and eleven entitled 'An act to establish a public school system in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania together with the provisions by which it shall be administered and prescribing penalties for the violation thereof providing revenue to establish and maintain the same and the method of collecting such revenue and repealing all laws general special or local or any parts thereof that are or may be inconsistent therewith' so far as to insure school privileges to certain dependent children of the Commonwealth" is hereby further amended to read as follows

Section 1402 A child shall be considered a resident of the school district in which his parents or the guardian of his person resides When a resident of any school district keeps in his home a child of school age not his own supporting the child gratis as is it were his own such child shall be entitled to all free school privileges accorded to resident school children of the district including the right to attend the public high school maintained in such district or in other districts in the same manner as though such child were in fact a resident school child of the district and shall be subject to all the requirements placed upon resident school children of the district Provided That before accepting such child as a pupil the board of school directors of the district may require such resident to file with the secretary of the board a sworn statement that he is a resident of the district that he is supporting the child gratis that he will assume all personal obligations for the child relative to school requirements and that he intends to so keep and support the child continuously and not merely through the school term

When a nonresident child is placed in the home of a resident of any school district by order of court or by arrangement with an association agency or institution having the care of neglected and dependent children such resident being compensated for keeping the child any child of school age so placed shall be [permitted to attend the public school of the district in which he is placed] entitled to all free school privileges accorded to resident school children of the district including the right to attend the public high school maintained in such district or in other districts in the same manner as though such child were in fact a resident school child of the district and the State shall reimburse the district for the education of such child to an amount not exceeding the actual average cost of tuition text-books and supplies for the district's children of similar grade and for other pupils pursuing similar studies for the same length of time such reimbursements to be made out of the money appropriated by the General Assembly for the maintenance and support of the public schools of this Commonwealth Provided That the school district may not be required to accept such children in its schools when their acceptance would involve additional provision for transportation by the district or would require the district to provide additional teachers or rooms at an expense greater than the amount of reimbursement paid to the district by the State

Any resident of any school district before accepting custody of a nonresident child of school age for compensation by order of court or by arrangement with an association agency or institution having the care of dependent or neglected children must secure from the superintendent of schools supervising principal or school board in that district a statement in writing that the child can be accommodated in the schools of the district or that the child cannot be so accommodated and the reasons therefor If such statement be not furnished within two weeks after a request in writing has been made to the board's secretary the supervising principal or the superintendent of schools the board's assent shall be assumed and the child shall be admitted to the schools of the district as a pupil If such statement sets forth conditions such as to exempt the district under this section from accepting the child as a pupil and if such exemption be not disapproved on appeal by the Superintendent of Public Instruction and if other arrangement for the child's schooling satisfactory to the county or district superintendent be not made the child may not be placed in the district

Appeals from the claim of any school district for exemption as provided in this section may be taken to the Superintendent of Public Instruction and his decision thereon after investigation shall be final

And said bill having been read at length the third time, considered and agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1450, entitled:

An Act authorizing Departments and Agencies of the Commonwealth the several Counties Municipalities and other

Sub-divisions thereof to Include in all Contracts an Agreement to Arbitrate under the Arbitration Act of one thousand eight hundred thirty-six

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. SOWERS. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the sponsor of this bill.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Beaver, Mr. Patterson, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. FRED W. PATTERSON. Yes sir, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. SOWERS. Will you explain to the House this bill and the bill following.

Mr. FRED W. PATTERSON. I will attempt to. These two bills, 1450 and 1451 were given to me by the Contractor's Association. The intention of the bills is to enable contractors, as I understand it, to arbitrate with the highway department or other departments. The first bill I understand is presented for the purpose of encouraging the department to arbitrate. It seems that in 1861 an act was passed repealing the act of 1836, and that act merely was a repealer for Philadelphia. Outside of Philadelphia it was not in effect, so that this bill, 1451 is a repealer of a repealer, it is to repeal a bill. That is about all I have to say about it.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows, viz:

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1451, entitled:

An Act to repeal an act entitled "An act Relating to Reference and Arbitration in the city and county of Philadelphia" approved the first day of May one thousand eight hundred and sixty-one

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. SOWERS. Mr. Speaker, the bill that was just passed, there is no objection to it from Philadelphia, but the bill now up for final passage is a bill relating to Philadelphia alone. It repeals a special act relating to Philadelphia, and nobody in Philadelphia has asked to have that act repealed. I would ask that this House vote no on this bill.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows, viz:

Less than the majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the negative and the bill falls.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1120, entitled:

An Act to amend an act approved the twenty-third day of May one thousand nine hundred and twenty-three (Pamphlet Laws three hundred and twenty-seven) entitled "A supplement to an act approved the twenty-third day of June one thousand nine hundred and eleven (Pamphlet Laws one thousand one hundred twenty-three) entitled 'An act establishing in each county a board of viewers prescribing their duties providing for their appointment as viewers road juries juries of view and commissioners to view land and providing for the charges upon the respective counties in the matter of salaries costs and expenses thereof' as the same was amended and supplemented by subsequent acts by providing for the compensation to be paid to the members of the board of viewers in counties of the second class" providing for the compensation of members of the Board of Viewers in counties of the first and second classes

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. EDMONDS. Mr. Speaker, I have been asked by one of the members of the House to say something in explanation of this bill. This bill relates to the salaries of the Board of Road Viewers in Philadelphia alone. Their salary is now $5,000. This proposes an increase to $6,500.00 under these circumstances: At the last session of the Legislature when the work of the viewers was considered the salaries in counties of the second class were raised to $6,500.00 but the salaries of the first counties were unfortunately omitted. It is intended to correct this omission by simply inserting the words first and second class so as to make it apply to Philadelphia as it already applies in Allegheny.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows, viz:

NAYS—0.

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1398, as follows:

An Act to provide for the better protection of life and health by diminishing the danger from infections and contagious diseases through the creation of a State Board of Undertakers with systematic examinations licenses and registration for all entering the business of burying the dead and penalties for violation of the provisions thereof throughout this Commonwealth and providing for the payment of the expenses thereof

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That the Governor by and with the advice and consent of the Senate shall appoint five persons who shall be practicing undertakers and such appointees shall constitute a State Board of Undertakers one of the persons so appointed shall hold office for one year one for two years one for three years et cetera unless sooner removed appointments to fill vacancies caused by death resignation or removal before the expiration of terms shall be made for the residue of such terms by the Governor subject to the consent of the Senate and all appointments to fill vacancies caused by the expiration of terms shall be made in the same manner and shall be for a period of three years each

Section 2 The members of the said board before entering upon their duties shall respectively take and subscribe to the oath required by the Constitution which shall be filed in the office of the Secretary of the Commonwealth who is hereby authorized to administer the same They shall have the power to elect out of their own number a president secretary and treasurer and adopt such regulations for the transaction of the business of the Board and the management of its affairs as they may deem expedient

Section 3 Each member of said board shall receive fifteen dollars per day when present while the board is in actual session otherwise the members of said board shall receive no salary as such except the secretary who shall receive in addition to the said amount a salary of fifteen hundred dollars per annum which together with the actual traveling and necessary expenses of the board and its members shall be paid out of the receipts as hereafter directed

Section 4 Said board shall meet at least once every year and may also hold special meetings as frequently as the proper and efficient discharge of its duties shall require at a time and place to be fixed by the rules and by-laws of the board and the rules and by-laws of the board shall provide for the giving of timely notice of all meetings to every member of the board A majority of the members shall constitute a quorum for the transaction of business Said board is hereby authorized to adopt and use a common seal

Section 5 Before any person excepting those already authorized by prior legislation shall hereafter engage in the business or profession of undertaking or the care preparation disposition and the burial of the bodies of deceased persons in his or her own name and on his or her own account in this Commonwealth such person shall apply to said board for a license to practice the same and shall accompany such application with a fee of ten dollars whereupon the applicant as aforesaid shall present himself or herself before said board at a time and place to be fixed by said board. If the board shall find upon due examination that the applicant is of good moral character possessed of an education which shall equal at least two years of high school work possessed of skill and knowledge of the said business or profession of undertaking shown by a practical demonstration of embalming before said board and has a reasonable knowledge of sanitation preservation of the dead disinfecting the bodies of deceased persons the apartment clothing and bedding in cases of death from infectious or contagious diseases and has had practical experience in the business or profession of undertaking for two years continuously with a licensed undertaker or undertakers as an undertaker's student as provided in section eight of this act the board shall issue to said applicant upon payment of a fee of twenty-five dollars a license to practice such business or profession of undertaking and shall register such applicant as a duly licensed undertaker.

Said board shall at any time revoke any license theretofore granted on proper cause and after full hearing of all the parties in interest. Said board shall investigate any report of violation of the provisions of this act which shall be submitted upon affidavit to the said board by two or more duly licensed undertakers.

Such license shall be signed by a majority of the board and attested by its seal. Any person obtaining a license under this act shall register that fact at the office of the board of health of the city or at the office of the board of health nearest to the place in which it is proposed to carry on said business or profession and shall display said license in a conspicuous place in the office of the place of business of such licensee.

Section 6 It shall be permissible under the provisions of this act for two or more duly licensed undertakers to practice the calling or profession of undertaking jointly as a firm or co-partnership in which each member of said firm or co-partnership is a duly licensed undertaker but no corporation or other organization shall hereafter be granted a license to engage in the business or profession of undertaking.

No person or organization shall be entitled to engage in the business or profession of undertaking in this Commonwealth after this act shall go into effect except such person or persons as are duly licensed by said board and firms or co-partnerships in which each member thereof is a duly licensed undertaker and such persons and corporations as shall have been authorized by previously existing legislation.

Section 7 Every person registered as a licensed undertaker shall annually hereafter during the month of January in each and every year cause his or her certificate to be recorded in the office of the State Board of Undertakers for which annual registration the said licensed undertaker shall pay a fee of two dollars. The said board on or before the first day of November of each year shall mail to every person registered as a licensed undertaker a blank application for registration. Upon receipt of such application blank each licensed undertaker shall fill in such information as the board may deem necessary and forward the same to the said board together with the aforesaid fee.

Any licensed undertaker who shall neglect in January of any year hereafter to register as herein provided shall at the discretion of said board forfeit his or her license and if permitted to register at a later time shall pay to said board a penalty of ten dollars.

Section 8 Every person employed as an undertaker's student shall be registered by his or her employer with the State Board of Undertakers annually in such manner as may be provided by said board and a fee of one dollar shall be paid for each annual registration. The secretary of said board shall keep a separate register for undertakers' students recording name age residence where they attended school and such other information as the board may desire. Should a registered undertaker's student for any reason leave the employ of such undertaker and accept employment as a student to any other undertaker the then employing undertaker shall immediately re-register said undertaker's student and an additional fee of one dollar shall be paid for said re-registration and the regular annual registration as may be provided by said board as aforesaid shall continue and a fee of one dollar shall be paid for each annual registration. When any undertaker's student leaves his or her employer or ceases to be a student the employer shall report such fact to the board. Any licensed undertaker who fails to comply with these requirements may be summoned before the board and if found guilty he or she may be fined at the option of the board.

The term "Undertaker's Student" within the meaning and intent of this act designates an assistant of a duly licensed undertaker who may be registered as herein provided in order to qualify for future examination before the said board as provided for in section five of this act.

Absence of two years' registration as an undertaker's student as provided for in section five of this act during the first two years after the passage of this act shall not disqualify an applicant for license if he or she meets all other requirements.

Section 9 Any person shall be regarded as engaging in the business or profession of an undertaker within the meaning and intent of this act who shall designate himself or herself as "Undertaker" "Undertaker and Embalmer" "Embalmer" "Funeral Director" "Mortician" or who shall in any manner whatsoever engage to take charge of dead human bodies and make preparation for final disposition with the intention of thereby serving in the business or profession of an undertaker.

Any person who shall practice or hold himself or herself out as practicing the business or profession of undertaking or the care preparation disposition and burial of the bodies of deceased persons without having complied with the provisions of this act shall be guilty of misdemeanor and upon conviction thereof before any court shall be sentenced to pay a fine of not less than fifty or more than five hundred dollars or undergo an imprisonment not exceeding one year or both at discretion of the court for each and every offense. Provided That nothing contained in this act shall be construed to apply to bona fide employees of a duly licensed undertaker or to persons engaged simply as layers-out or shrouders of the dead or to the employees of any cemetery or crematory whose duties or business extend no further.

Section 10 No provision of this act shall interfere with the business of disposing of dead human bodies by the commissioned medical officers of the army of the United States or by persons engaged in the United States Marine Hospital service or to the disposition of dead human bodies lawfully placed at the service of legally organized medical or surgical institutions for the benefit of science or to the decisions and directions of the State Department of Public Health in times of actual epidemic or public calamity.

Section 11 No license granted or issued under the provisions of this act shall be assignable or transferable and every such license shall specify by name the person to whom it is issued and shall designate the particular place or places at which the business shall be carried on.

Section 12 All fees collected and all fines paid under the provisions of this act shall go to and be used for the purpose of the said board of undertakers to defray its necessary expenses prosecutions and violations.

Section 13 It shall be the duty of said board on or before the first Monday of January of each and every year to make a report in writing to the Governor of this State containing a detailed statement of the nature of the receipts and the manner of expenditures and any balance of money remaining at the end of the year after the payment of the necessary expenses prosecutions and violations including the salary of the secretary and the traveling and other necessary expenses of the members of the board incurred in the discharge of their duties as such in addition to the daily allowance while the board is in actual session shall be reserved by the treasurer of said board to meet the necessary expenses of ensuing years.

Section 14 This act shall go into effect immediately upon its passage and all existing legislation not consistent with this act is hereby repealed.

And said bill having been read at length the third time, considered and agreed to,

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows, viz:

NAYS—0.

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1279, entitled:

An Act to amend section three of an act approved the thirteenth day of March one thousand eight hundred and fifteen (Pamphlet Laws one hundred fifty) entitled "An act concerning divorces" by eliminating alias subpoenas in divorce actions

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. RHODES. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the sponsor of this bill.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Burke, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. BURKE. I will, but I will also state, Mr. Speaker, not being a married man, I know nothing about bosses, so I refer you to my attorney, Mr. Sowers.

Mr. RHODES. Will the gentleman explain the necessity for this change in the existing law?

Mr. SOWERS. I read the bill over and I find that all the law does is to eliminate from our present practice what is known as the alias subpoena in divorce. For you who are not lawyers I will try to make myself as plain as possible. A husband and wife have separated and either the wife or the husband brings an action in divorce against the other spouse. That spouse has disappeared and cannot be found. Under the present law the court issues what is known as a subpoena in divorce. That subpoena goes to the sheriff and the sheriff is asked to find the respondent, in the case. Everybody knows at the time of the issuing of that subpoena in divorce that the respondent cannot be found. In other words, the sheriff can hunt and hunt and he cannot find the respondent. Under our present practice he returns his subpoena and says to the court, "I have hunted for the respondent and I cannot find him." Then the court issues an alias subpoena in divorce and then the sheriff goes through the same performance again and then he reports to the court, "I cannot find the respondent." Then the attorney for the case goes into court and asks for an order of the court for publication, in other words, that the sheriff shall advertise in the newspaper for the respondent to appear, so that you have this peculiarity in the law today, that the sheriff must make two attempts to find a man or a woman that everybody at the beginning of the case knows he is not going to find the first time, but the poor fellow, or the poor woman that is anxious to prosecute the case must pay the sheriff twice to do something that he is not going to do on either occasion. This bill dispenses with that unnecessary cost.

Mr. RHODES. Is it not true that the practice now existing in all matters where personal service cannot be made requires two returns?

Mr. SOWERS. In all cases where personal service cannot be made. In all cases where the respondent cannot be found then the sheriff must make two efforts to find something that he cannot find.

Mr. RHODES. Mr. Speaker, and members of the House, the gentleman from Philadelphia has made a very lucid and clear explanation of the existing law in connection with divorce. However, I disagree with him in certain respects. I don't see any reason why divorce should be expedited where personal service cannot be made. This establishes a practice not only in connection with divorce, but likewise in connection with lots of other proceedings in legal matters, that where personal service cannot be made two returns are required by the sheriff. It seems to me that we are not continuing uniformity of procedure when we amend the present practice in connection with divorce. I think the passage of this law would cause us to diviate from the established practice where personal service cannot be made in legal proceedings. I believe there is no urgent reason why a divorce should be granted too hastily. The question of expense involved is not great, and in so far as two subpoenas are concerned, sometimes an alias subpoena when your original subpoena cannot be served. It seems to me it is nothing more than fair to the respondent that this precaution be taken, that proper motives be given if possible.

Mr. SOWERS. Mr. Speaker, and members of the House, I will reply to my friend in a very few words. My friend's argument to begin with gives you the impression that when the sheriff is given an order for publication that he is not at the same time ordered to personally subpoena the respondent. The order for publication is a direction to the sheriff to advertise in a paper. There is also a direction to sheriff, to make a personal service, if it can be done. Now the objection that my friend raises that it speeds divorce cases, that objection is not good, because in actual practice at the bar you will find that any person, or the average person that can afford to go through with a divorce case by publication that they have been saving for some days to get the money to pay for the newspaper advertising, both for the sheriff, the master and the final ruling, and it is the most expensive kind of litigation that we have today. It enriches three sets of advertising it enriches the newspapers. It is not a speedy proceeding and it only sort of burdens the poor woman that may have been struggling for years and then finds some opportunity to go ahead and apply for a divorce. I don't think that all that unnecessary expense should be placed on them.

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. EDE. Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent to offer amendments at this time.

The SPEAKER. The amendments will be read by the Clerk for information.

The Clerk read the amendments as follows:

Amend line six by striking out the words "the nearest" and inserting therein the word "a".

Amend line six by inserting after the word "officer" the words "nearest by public highway".

The SPEAKER. Will the House give unanimous consent to the insertion of the amendments at this time? Is there any objection? The Chair hears none, and the amendments will be inserted in accordance with the instruction of the House.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading as amended?

It was agreed to.

Ordered, That the bill as amended lie over for printing.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1137, entitled:

An Act to further amend clause twenty-four of section one thousand two hundred ten as amended of an act approved the eighteenth day of May one thousand nine hundred and eleven (Pamphlet Laws three hundred and nine) entitled "An act to establish a public school system in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania together with provisions by which it shall be administered and prescribing penalties for the violation thereof providing revenues to establish and maintain the same and the method of collecting such revenues and repealing all laws general special or local or any parts thereof that are or may be inconsistent therewith"

And said bill having been read at length the third time, considered and agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows, viz:

NAYS—0.

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1156, as follows:

An Act defining the powers of fire marshals in counties of the second class with regard to buildings and premises and fire hazards in connection therewith including the prescribing of rules and regulations with regard to explosives and inflammable substances Providing for the enforcement of the orders of the fire marshal providing penalties and imposing certain duties upon fire insurance companies

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That fire marshals in counties of the second class in this Commonwealth shall have the following powers to wit

(a) To enter at all reasonable times and inspect all buildings within the respective counties and where it is found that any such buildings or premises are dilapidated and hazardous (including fire ruins) endangering life and adjoining property from fire the same are hereby declared to be a nuisance and the fire marshals of such counties shall order the same repaired if the hazardous condition can be corrected but if not then he shall order the said building or ruins removed at once or within a reasonable time thereafter according to the immediate danger existing Said notice of removal shall be served upon the owner or occupant of said building which service for the purposes herein shall be sufficient

(b) To prescribe rules and regulations governing the handling storage and selling of benzine benzole dynamite ether fireworks gasoline Greek fire gunpowder naphtha nitro-glycerine or other explosives phosphorus or petroleum or any other similar product of greater inflammability than kerosene oil of United State standard

(c) To enforce all laws ordinances rules and regulations now or hereafter enacted or adopted within said counties regarding the erection construction and repairing of buildings as the same concerns the elimination of fire hazards

(d) To regulate and prevent the overcrowding of all public places where large numbers of people congregate and if any such place is dangerous and a menace to life and property to make an order and to close the same

Section 2 If any person feels aggrieved by any order of any such fire marshals made under the provisions of this act such person may within five days after such order is given file his petition in the courts of common pleas of the proper county praying a review of such order by said court whereupon a stay of the enforcement of said order may be granted if the court so determines but said person filing said petition shall be required by said court to give a good and sufficient bond to be approved by said court in an adequate amount conditioned for the faithful and prompt prosecution of said case and the payment of all costs that may accrue thereon The court shall fix a day for hearing said appeal of which such notice shall be given to all parties interested as the court may direct The appeal may be heard before the court or before the court and a jury if the court determines a jury necessary for the determination of any questions of fact The court shall dispose of such petition as soon as possible and shall enter such order affirming modifying or reversing the order of the fire marshal as may seem just in the premises

Section 3 When by order of any such fire marshals or upon directions of the court of common pleas as aforesaid affirming or modifying any order as aforesaid it is directed that such a nuisance or other condition as aforesaid be removed or corrected and the owner or occupant neglects and refuses to comply therewith or to actually commence correction or removal thereof as directed for a period of ten days after notice that said order has become final as aforesaid then and in such case such fire marshal shall have the right to apply by petition to the court of the common pleas of the proper county for an order directing the owner or occupant thereof to comply with said order within forty-eight hours thereafter and on default thereof the said owner or occupant as the case may be shall be considered in contempt of court for violation of the decree and order of said court and may be imprisoned by direction of said court until he is purged of such contempt. On failure and refusal of an owner or occupant to comply with the said order instead of proceeding as heretofore in this section set out any of the said marshals may apply to said common pleas court for an order directing and ordering that said nuisance be abated and removed or corrected whenever the cost thereof shall be charged to and paid by the county commissioners of the county wherein said nuisance had existed. All costs so paid by the county shall be collectible from the owner of the property as debts of like amount are now by law collectible.

Section 4 When by any order of any such fire marshals or when an order is affirmed or modified by the court as herein set out a nuisance is directed to be removed or corrected and the owner or occupant thereof fails and refuses to fully comply therewith within a reasonable time after notice then such owner or occupant shall be deemed guilty of wilfully keeping and maintaining a nuisance detrimental to life and property and shall in a summary proceeding be fined not more than fifty dollars and not less than twenty-five dollars for each day such refusal continues and in default of the payment of such fine and costs shall be imprisoned one day for each dollar of fine and costs unpaid.

Section 5 It shall be the duties of all fire insurance companies doing business in said counties to report in detail immediately to such fire marshals every fire occurring in said respective counties of which they are notified before adjustment of said loss is made and upon failure to do such fire insurance companies shall be liable to a penalty of not more than fifty dollars and not less than ten dollars.

Section 6 All fines and penalties due hereunder shall be collectible at the suit of the said respective fire marshals as other fines and penalties are collectible and paid into the county treasury of said counties.

Section 7 All acts or parts of acts general special or local inconsistent herewith are hereby repealed.

And said bill having been read at length the third time, considered and agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows, viz:

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. LUCAS. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the sponsor of this bill.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. BALDI. Mr. Speaker, I will.

Mr. LUCAS. Mr. Speaker, I would like to ask the gentleman from Philadelphia, would he kindly explain this bill.

Mr. BALDI. Mr. Speaker, if I thought my friend Mr. Lucas was sincere I would. I really do not think he is sincere in the question.

Mr. LUCAS. Mr. Speaker, I still would like to interrogate him. Does this bill mean that it prohibits any one from giving you a ticket to go to an entertainment?

Mr. BALDI. No.

Mr. LUCAS. It does not?

Mr. BALDI. You can get all the free tickets that will be given you.

Mr. LUCAS. In other words, the bill reads that the price of the ticket shall be printed thereon?

Mr. BALDI. Yes, sir.

Mr. LUCAS. That is all the bill means?

Mr. BALDI. Yes, that is all the bill means.

NAYS—0.

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1446, entitled:

An Act to further regulate the construction maintenance and inspection of buildings in cities of the first class

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

BILL DROPPED FROM CALENDAR.

Mr. LUCAS. Mr. Speaker, owing to the fact that this is a duplicate of a bill that has already passed the Senate and the House, I move that it be dropped from the calendar.

Mr. HARER. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

BILL ON THIRD READING.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1421, (Senate Bill No. 565), entitled:

An Act authorizing and empowering the Department of Welfare to sell surplus products of prison industries to the Government of the United States including all departments bureaus commissions and other agencies thereof existing under acts of the Congress of the United States and to the Government of any state or commonwealth of the United States and to any county city borough township or other organized subdivision of any state or commonwealth of the United States And to any institution maintained by or receiving aid from any State or Commonwealth of the United States or any organized sub-division thereof

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. ALEXANDER. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate somebody in reference to this bill.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Delaware desires to know if anybody in the House is familiar with the terms of this bill.

Mr. EDMONDS. Mr. Speaker, in a general way I may be able to answer the gentleman's inquiry.

Mr. ALEXANDER. Is not this a duplicate of the many bills which we have been receiving, making special funds in these departments?

Mr. EDMONDS. I think not. This relates particularly to the sale of surplus products in institutions and our prisons and it is paid into the prison labor fund.

Mr. ALEXANDER. And is that prison labor and collected by the prison labor board?

Mr. EDMONDS. Yes.

Mr. ALEXANDER. Then what accounting have we, what way is there in this bill of accounting for any one except the chairman of the prison labor board? It does not even provide for accounting to the Chairman of the Welfare Board.

Mr. EDMONDS. I am not familiar with the method whereby the prison board accounts, but I imagine it is the way they account for their general accounts.

BILL POSTPONED.

Mr. ALEXANDER. Mr. Speaker, I move that this bill be placed on the postponed calendar.

Mr. CRAIG. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

BILL ON THIRD READING.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. EDMONDS. Mr. Speaker, may I ask if there is any member of the House that can explain this bill?

The SPEAKER. Is there anyone here that can explain the provisions of this bill?

Mr. ALEXANDER. Mr. Speaker, I will try to.

Mr. EDMONDS. What is the public need that the bill is here?

Mr. ALEXANDER. In the first place there has been a good bit said already today about there being other executive heads instead of the Governor. Two of those who are very important to the administration of the affairs of this Commonwealth are your two fiscal officers, the Auditor General and the State Treasurer. The Supreme Court has just held that any decision that the Auditor General or State Treasurer may want to obtain is obtained from the Attorney General. Of course, there are times when the Auditor General, in checking up accounts, does not agree that certain accounts should be passed; in other words, the other part of the administration wants to put over a bill; it is up to the Auditor General to either O. K. that bill and pass it over to the State Treasurer or refuse to pass it for some reason or other. Under the decision of the Supreme Court, carrying out the Administrative Code of 1923, the Supreme Court had to say, of course, that whatever the opinion of the Attorney General was as to the rights of the Auditor General in passing that bill, he had to accept; and therefore we have this fine anomaly at the present time. We have one part of the Executive Department of this Commonwealth that wants to put over something on the other part, and your checks and balances, the Auditor General who looks into the correctness of that bill, finds that that bill is not correct, but the Attorney General, the appointee of the Governor, whose interest it is to pass a bill, says to the Auditor General, "It is legal and proper that you pass that bill." Now, if we are going to have a state of affairs of this kind, why not let us put a resolution in here to amend the Constitution and do away with everything up here except the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, and I will include in there the Legislature of the State of Pennsylvania, just have one man sitting up here and running this. That is what we are coming to, and my friend from Philadelphia says that he is perfectly satisfied that shall be. That may be when he has a dear friend in the Governor's department at the present time, but if we should happen to get somebody up there that he did not agree with, there would be no one more to play with.

I will tell you one thing, and that is that there is no use of endeavoring to have a proper administration of affairs without proper checks and balances, aid if those checks and balances have to be hampered by the private counsel of the man who is endeavoring to put the thing over on you, what is the use of having checks and balances? Why, it is a farce; in other words, there is a case in point of a bill which is now in the Appropriations Committee. I will show you under the circumstances what happens. What is the necessity of having an attorney of this kind? There was a bill for up in Northumberland county to build a bridge in that county, and we appropriated $400,000 for the building of that bridge. The Governor cut that down to $350,000, but when the contract was let, it was found that the lowest bid it could be built for was $403,112. The Auditor General properly advised that they had no right to enter into that contract and bind the State for $403,112 without that money being first appropriated by this Legislature. But the Attorney General advised them to enter into such a contract, spend the $350,000 appropriated, and take the $60,000 additional needed out of the motor fund and they entered into the contract. But you will notice here at the present time there is a bill in the Legislature that wants to make up for that deficiency of $60,000; and this, notwithstanding the constitutional provision that they cannot go ahead and enter into the contracts and notwithstanding the money is not at hand and not appropriated. That is the reason it is important that your fiscal officers should have somebody to advise them other than the friend of the people whom they are checking up. Why, what is the use of checking up the Welfare Commission? What is the use of checking up any of these other things if, after he has checked up that party checked up is to be advised by the Attorney General, who is friendly to the Welfare Commission and the Governor, that it is all right, and then, according to this infamous Administrative Code and according to the decision of the Supreme Court following the Code, which they must do, it is provided that it is all right, notwithstanding your check-ups say it is all wrong.

Mr. EDMONDS. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the gentleman from Delaware further. Is it not a fact that way back in Governor Brumbaugh's administration, when Francis Shunk Brown was Attorney General, that the Act of Assembly was passed which made the Attorney General counsel for all the departments of government?

Mr. ALEXANDER. I believe that is so.

Mr. EDMONDS. You are proposing to repeal that act?

Mr. ALEXANDER. I am not proposing to repeal anything. This is not my bill.

Mr. EDMONDS. This bill is not proposing to amend that act?

Mr. ALEXANDER. No, sir; this gives the right to the Auditor General to say—in other words, not until the Administrative Code was adopted and not until the present administration was adopted, was there such a power as has been existing during this administration. Never before under Francis Shunk Brown's administration was there any necessity for such a bill as this, because when a constitutional question was raised, irrespective of whether the Governor was interested or whether he was not, the Attorney General gave the proper advice, and not in such cases as we have had in this administration, and it is only since this administration that such a bill as this has become necessary.

Mr. EDMONDS. May I ask the gentleman further, under the provisions of the bill he is explaining, who determines the number of private counsel that officers may employ, who determines what their compensation may be and how is the expense of the transaction to be met?

Mr. ALEXANDER. I believe, as far as this is concerned, it is entirely with the Auditor General, the State Treasurer and the Secretary of Internal Affairs, who are equally as important as any of the other administrative and executive heads of this Commonwealth, and in whom the people of Pennsylvania have placed as much confidence as they have in any of the other executive heads, and when they place the same confidence as my friend from Philadelphia, permitting the Governor to run the whole show, they will agree that the Secretary of Internal Affairs, the Auditor General and the State Treasurer may at least run their own departments.

Mr. EDMONDS. May I interrogate the gentleman further? The first section of the act says, "the Auditor General, the State Treasurer and Secretary of Internal Affairs are hereby authorized and empowered, without the consent of the Attorney General, to employ such persons learned in the law as are necessary to conduct the legal business of their respective departments and to fix their compensation."

Does the gentleman think that is careful and prudent legislation, in line with the arguments that he has been addressing to us?

Mr. ALEXANDER. I think under the conditions of the Administrative Code, I would say, "yes," it is far more fair, far more consistent with economy than anything in the Administrative Code.

Mr. EDMONDS. Well now, Mr. Speaker, I want to say very frankly to the gentleman that it is always a pleasure to discuss this subject, because he is absolutely consistent. He is singing the one song from morning to night, and the proper feeling is that. However, whether he recognizes whether or not, he is legally in a flaw so far as the legality of the situation is concerned. He told us this morning that the Department of Justice was one of the eight department heads provided for by the Constitution in which the Attorney General was the head one. Now we propose to have a series of more attorneys employed by the heads of departments ad lib. Now I am told by those who had something to do with that law passed in Governor Brumbaugh's time that one of the things which impressed them more and more was the great multiplicity of attorneys and the great diversity of salaries, and the very great lack of knowledge as to how much this special advice cost and as a result, it seems to me wise to bring all of these judicial functions that have to do with advising the officers of the State under one control. For some reason or other, this bill seems to take a whack at the Administrative Code, but does not refer to the act of 1917. I wonder whether my friend does not think that along with other senatorial bills this bill should be put on the postponed calendar until we can observe what its effects will be.

Mr. ALEXANDER. My friend who was such an authority on the Administrative Code two years ago should know that the Administrative Code repealed the Brumbaugh Act, and, therefore, the only law in effect at the present time is the Administrative Code, and of course, this act does not repeal anything but that act, the Brumbaugh Act being out of existence.

Mr. EDMONDS. Then may I ask the gentleman, does he stand for the idea that the executive officers of the State, the eight or five that may be elected by the people, should have the right and power to employ as many counsel as they please and fix their compensation at such rates as they please, and does the gentleman feel that is good legislation.

Mr. ALEXANDER. I feel that your fiscal officers at least, if not the Secretary of Internal Affairs, should have the right to employ their own counsel according to their discretion. They are elected by the people and have far more important offices than the Governor of this Commonwealth or some of your other more important officers have and as a general thing are a higher class of men than we have had in the Governor's chair for many years.

Mr. LUDLOW. It would probably be unusual news to you to find that the gentleman from Delaware and I are in accord on so substantial a point as advice by separate counsel to the heads of these departments instead of seeking the aid of the Attorney General. I can go one hundred per cent of the way with him on that. I believe there are times when the Auditor General is called upon to do certain things where the advice from the Attorney General may absolutely contravene what the Auditor General deems to be his duty, and to that extent I heartily concur with the position taken by the gentleman from Delaware, and if this act could be amended, or any act proposed to us, to give the Auditor General a chance under conditions like those, to employ his own counsel, and defend what he deems to be this constitutional rights, I should go along with him, Administrative Code or no Administrative Code. But if you will read this act—and I do not want to be misunderstood, I am one hundred per cent with the gentleman from Delaware on that,—but if you will read this act it goes back to the thing that Attorney General Brown was against, that Attorney General Alter was against, that Attorney General Shaffer, now Mr. Justice Shaffer, was against. This act if you pass it as it is, will permit each of these three departments in all matters such as have been mentioned and all matters relating to the department, to hire any number of attorneys. Far be it from me to deprive the members of the Bar from these chances, but it seems to me that the policy laid down by these three Attorneys General, who have been good public servants, should not be departed from and the sky made the limit in allowing any number of attorneys to take care of the business of the department. I want to call your attention to the language on pages one and two where it provides that they may retain these attorneys to furnish advice to such officers concerning any matter or thing arising in connection with the exercise of the official powers or performance of the official duties of the department. That takes us back to the days when prior to—well, I won't name the year because that may be naming the people—but it was a matter of public scandal in this state—I would not say that these three present department heads would do this, but why put it on the books? If the things that the gentleman from Delaware wants can be put in this act by amendment, let us now put this bill on the postponed calendar, and amend it so as to give any departmental head the right to retain counsel where he deems he is deprived of his constitutional right and the attorney general advises him to the contrary. Do not, I beg of you, by passing this act, throw the matter open again and override what these Attorneys General have recommended to this state. If Mr. Lewis or Mr. Snyder or the new Auditor General who is about to take office, General Martin, feels that his constitutional rights are overturned by going to the Attorney General, then I concur with the gentleman from Delaware, but as it stands in this form, you are making the sky the limit, and it seems to me it is a mistake to throw the doors wide open in this matter.

Mr. ALEXANDER. I would like to call the gentleman's attention to the fact that we passed the Executive Board bill this morning, a bill creating an Executive Board, which will regulate not only the number but the salaries of these attorneys.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the Constitution the yeas and nays were then taken.

Mr. LUDLOW. Mr. Speaker, I ask for a verification of the roll.

The SPEAKER. The roll will be verified.

The roll was verified as follows:
